Hey, I'm more than just a number . . . Numbers classify all people into certain categories. All students have a student number, numbers on their books, and certain locker numbers. It seems like everywhere we turn numbers are involved.

This year a new computer system was used for enrollment and report cards, in hopes of eliminating some of the work for counselors and teachers. We, at Del City, also added a new parking system which allowed students to park in certain lots, according to the numbers on their parking stickers.

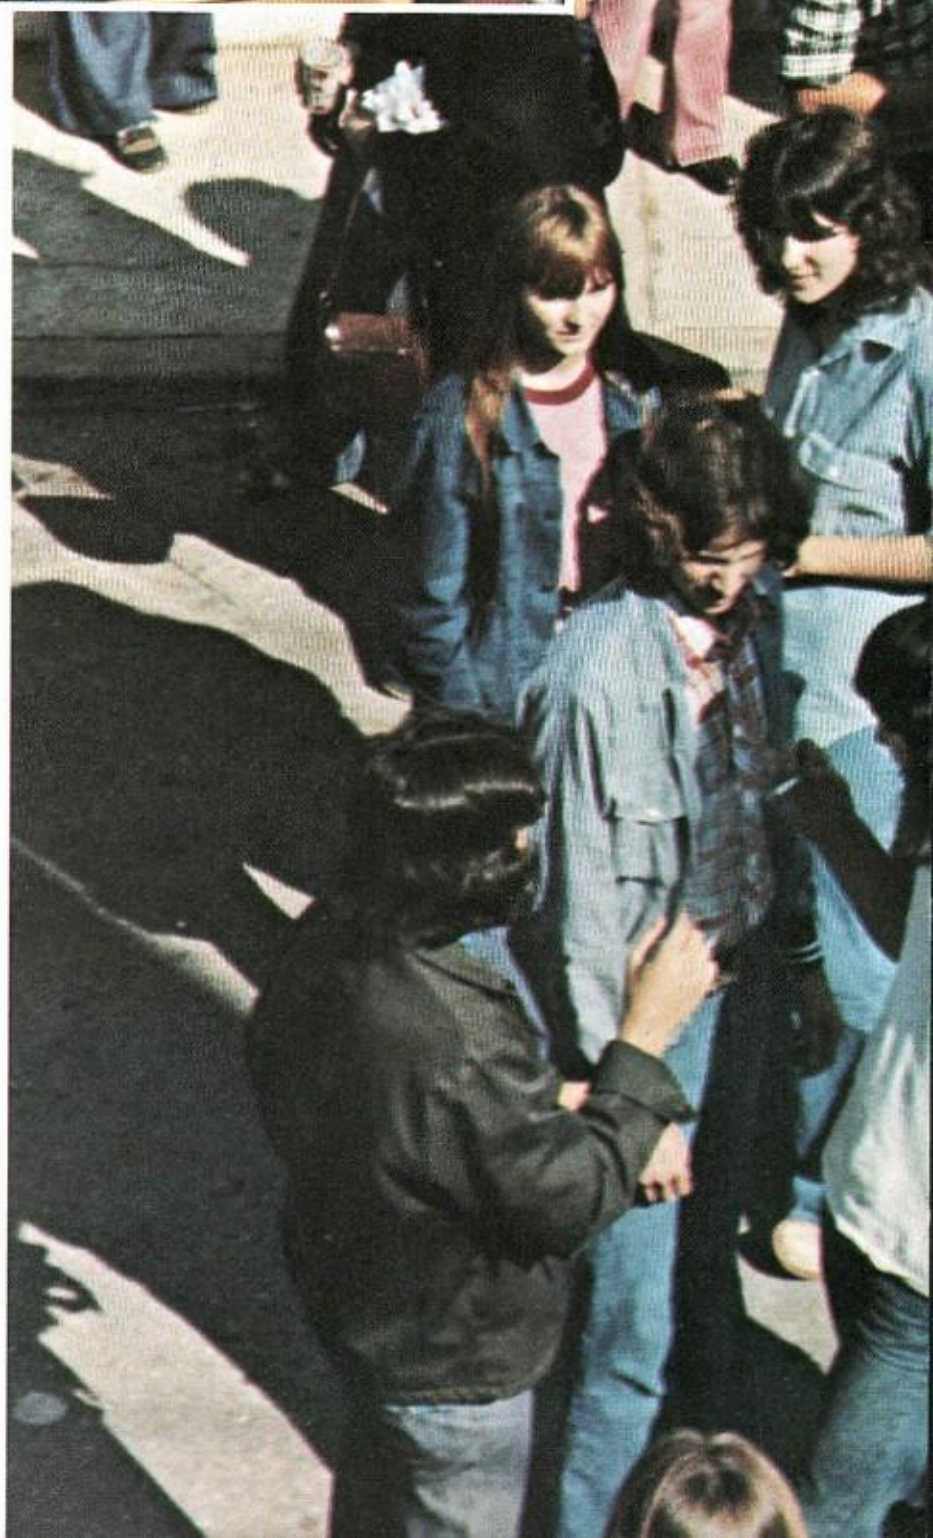

Computers may have invaded Del City High School but the students know that although numbers count it's the individual that stands out! The individuals at this school are learning, by each being his own person, to conquer

Like numbers, crowds are also hard to escape, especially at Del City High. The halls seem to get smaller each year as the number of students increases. There is no way to walk down the halls between classes without getting pushed and shoved. The lines in the cafeteria seem longer as you grow hungrier.

Yet, in the midst of crowds there is still a sense of companionship between friends. There is always someone with whom to share a smile or an exchange of greetings as you push your way to class.

There will always be crowds wherever you are — in the halls, at football games, or in the parking lot — but the students of 1975 learned to live with the

So many times I find myself feeling this way. I may be in the middle of a crowd, but still I am very alone. I may be doing things with my friends, but I am really wrapped up in my own thoughts. Most of my feelings are unknown to others. People around me have no way of knowing the total me, they know only the parts I choose to reveal.

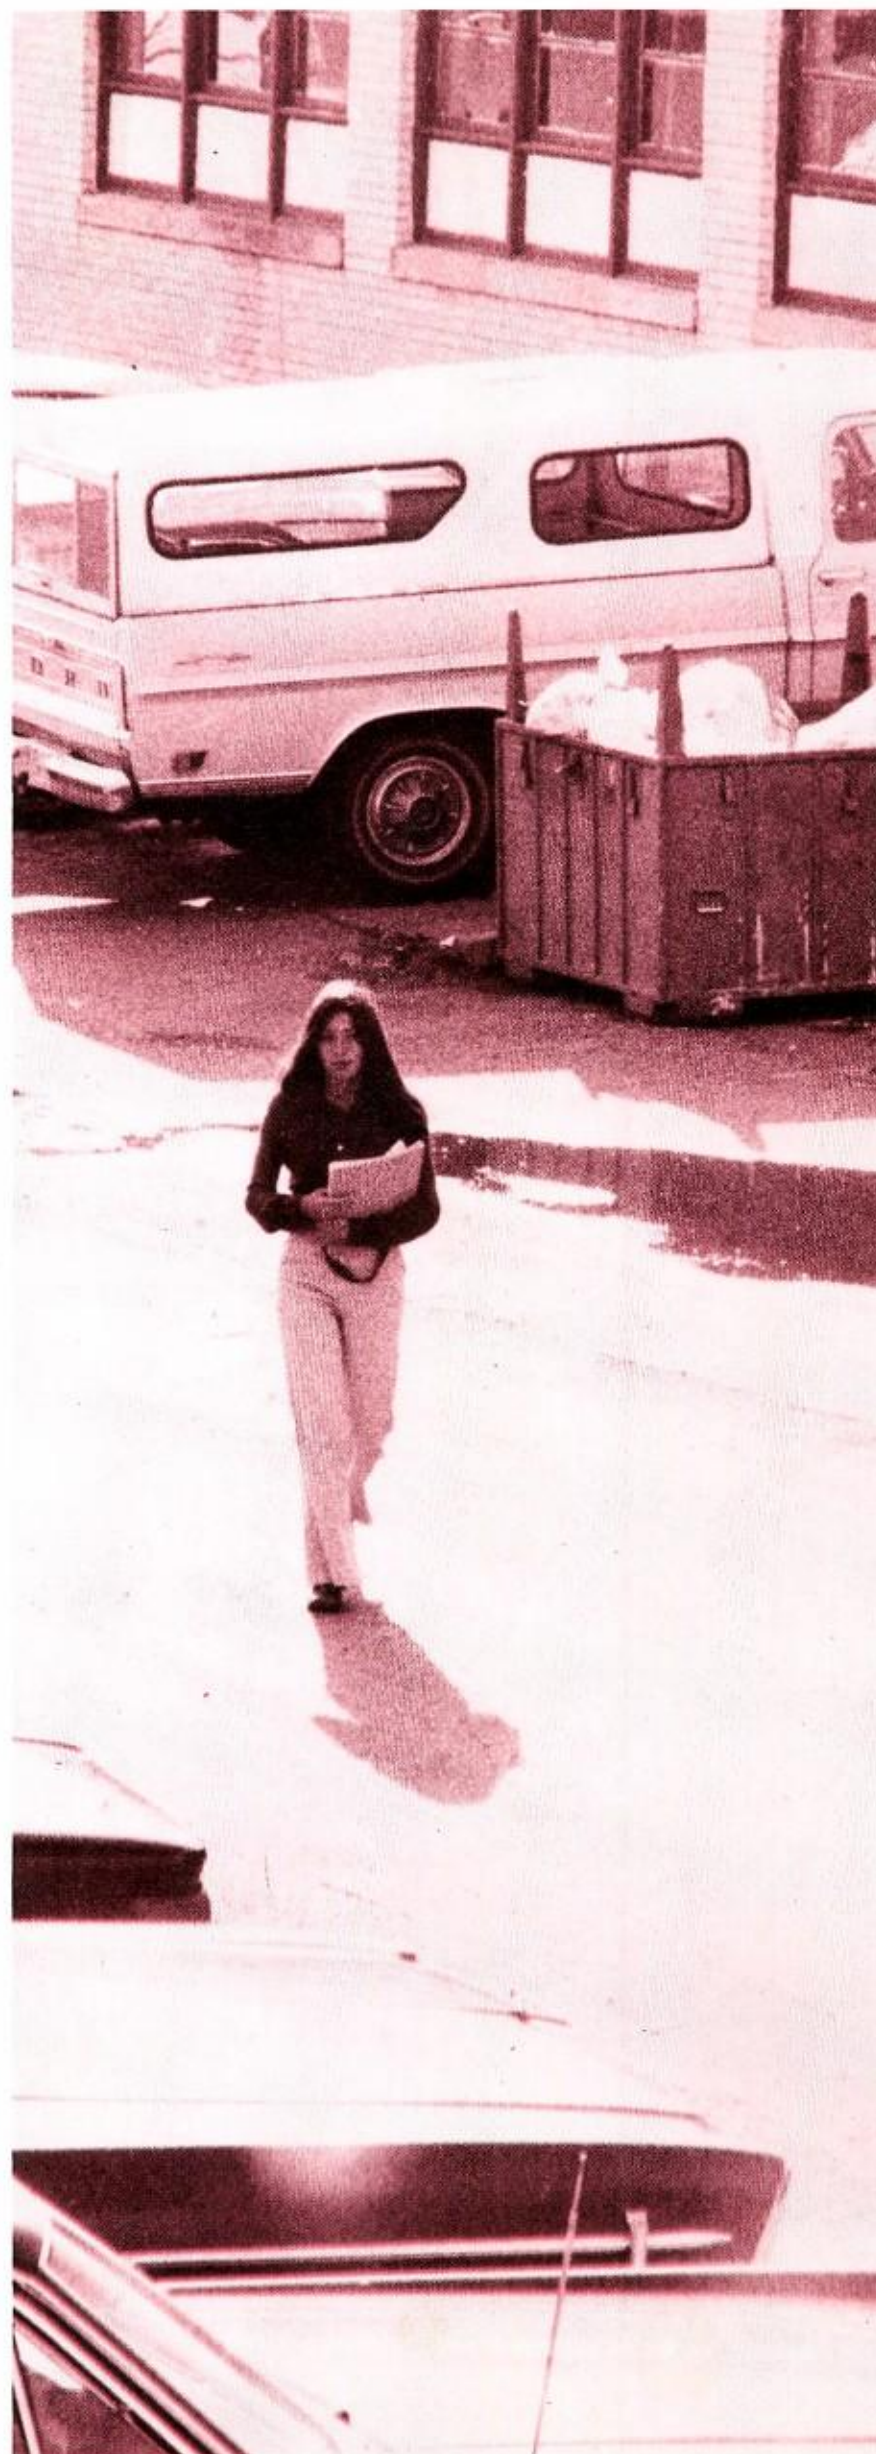

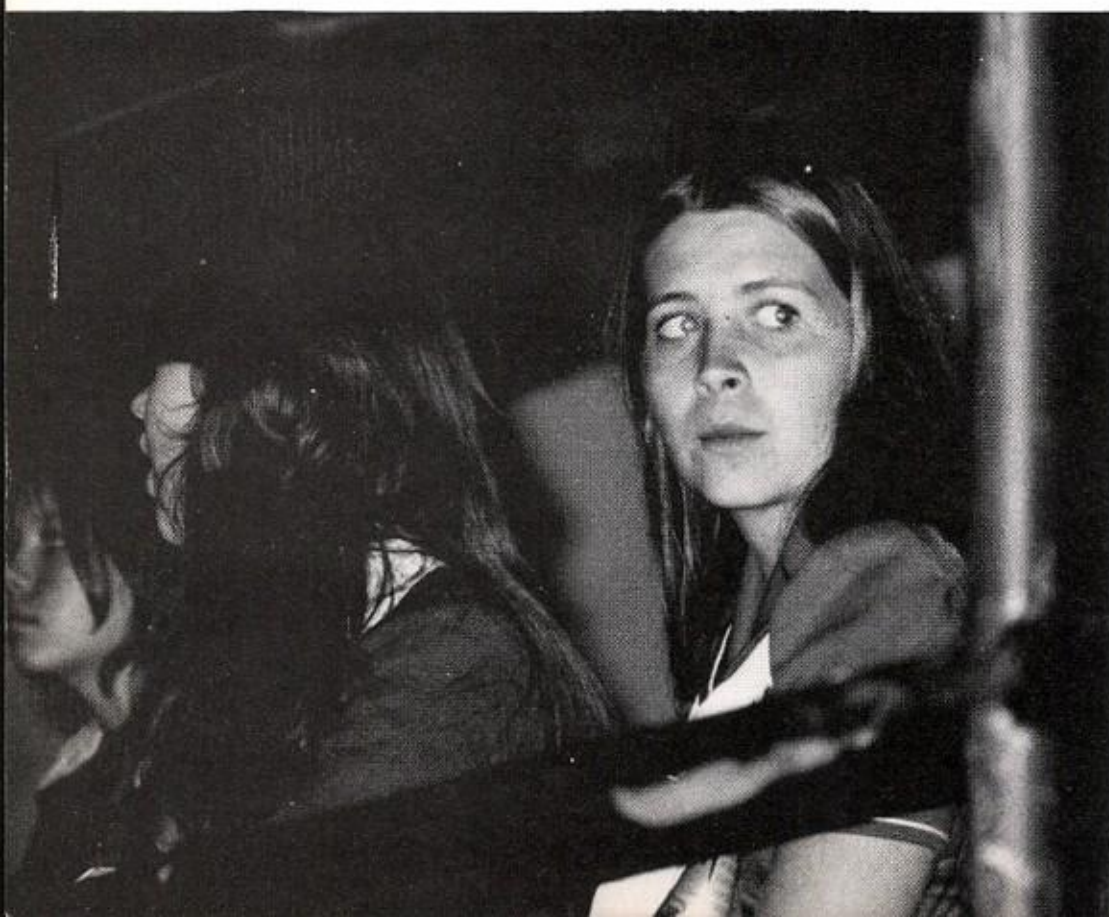

At times I find myself tuning others out. Even though I am involved, I tend to be too much absorbed in my own ideas. This might create problems, but sometimes losing myself in my own thoughts is the only way to preserve my sanity.

Everywhere around me are numbers of people. How much I will let them influence the way I live my life is a question still unanswered. I only hope that as I continue to think and experience and grow, I will separate myself from the crowd and be counted as

It takes one to make a whole. The Del Aires, the athletic teams, the band and every other organization is made up of many individuals, each having his own talents to offer. When these individuals pool their talents they all become a whole, all working together, all suffering and all rejoicing together in the results of their talents.

Each person is a separate and necessary part of the one body formed when everyone's talents are working together. It takes one to make the

Discover Changes As The Year Begins

As the doors opened for the beginning of the 1974-75 school year campaign, changes became the focus of attention.

Parking restrictions, canine protection, new room numbers, and other new rules, added up to what seemed to be a confusing year ahead.

However, the new outlook of the library and the never-changing guidance of teachers and counselors disproved this theory. Del City was in fact, changing in time with the modern world and still emerging, a front runner!

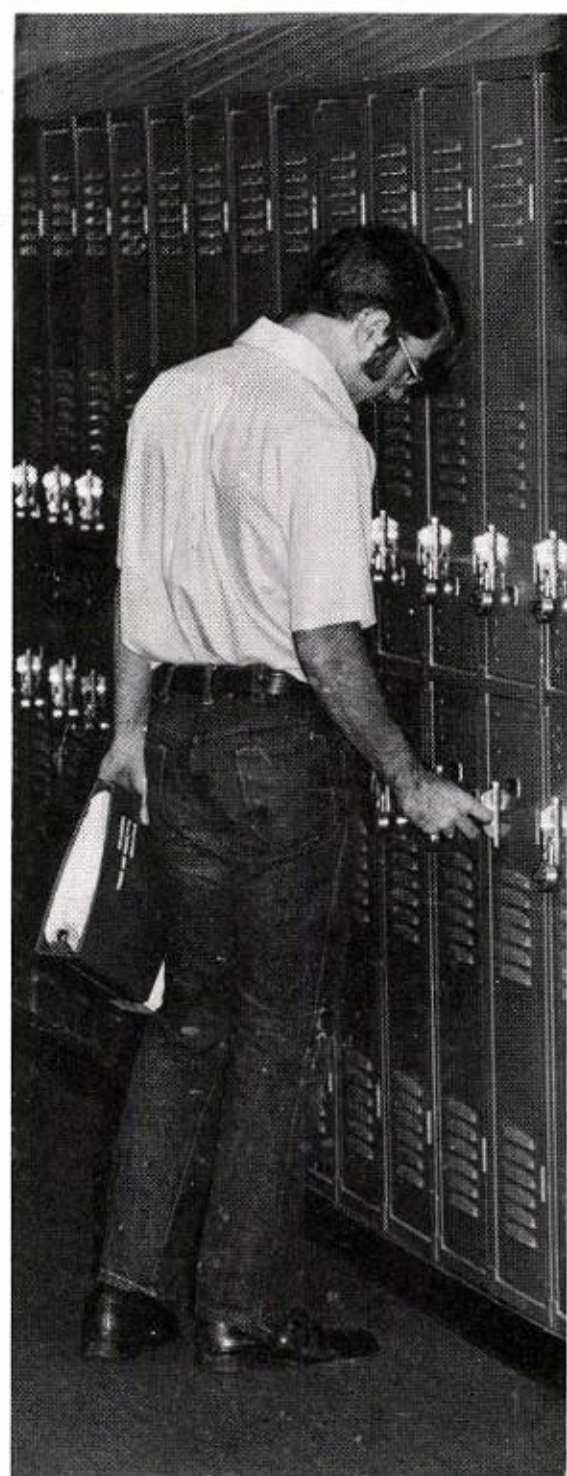

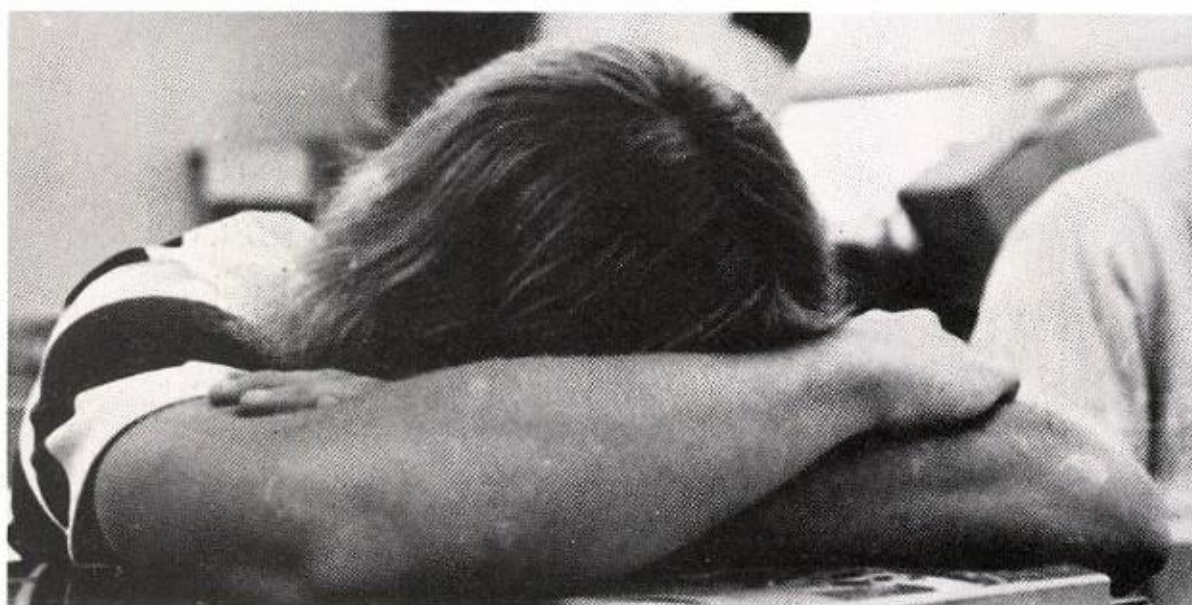

Del City finds itself protected by canine authority.

To the prettiest girl at Del

Of School Life Is Evident

Soon after the first weeks of school, the frantic pace of school life simmered to a monotonous routine of seemingly endless classes.

The mechanical process started each morning, as cars filled the parking lots, grunting and coughing as cold engines sputtered out. Then the clash of locker doors and the clatter of footsteps, filled the school corridors competing with the clanging sounds of the period bells.

Yet the glum feeling was deceiving. Football festivities and other matters proved that DCHS was alive.

Homecoming Highlights Year

As always, homecoming brought the pomp and pageantry that highlights any football season. Chants of victory, delightful squeals as girls received their mums, the climactic bonfire which lightened everyone's spirits — all added up to an Eagle homecoming.

The splendor was even more magnificent because everyone was together — the togetherness that makes Del City great.

Although the game became a rout, Del Cityians took the loss in stride with memories and high hopes of a better year to come.

Shows Spirit And Enthusiasm

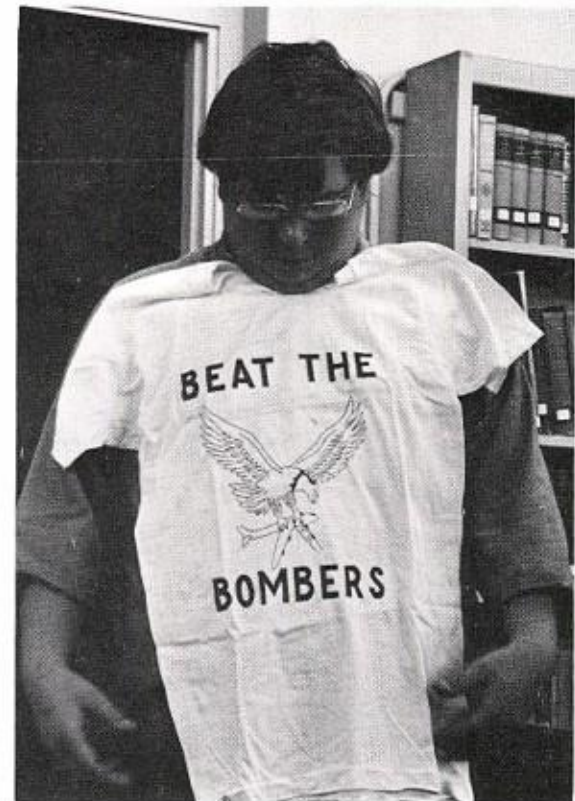

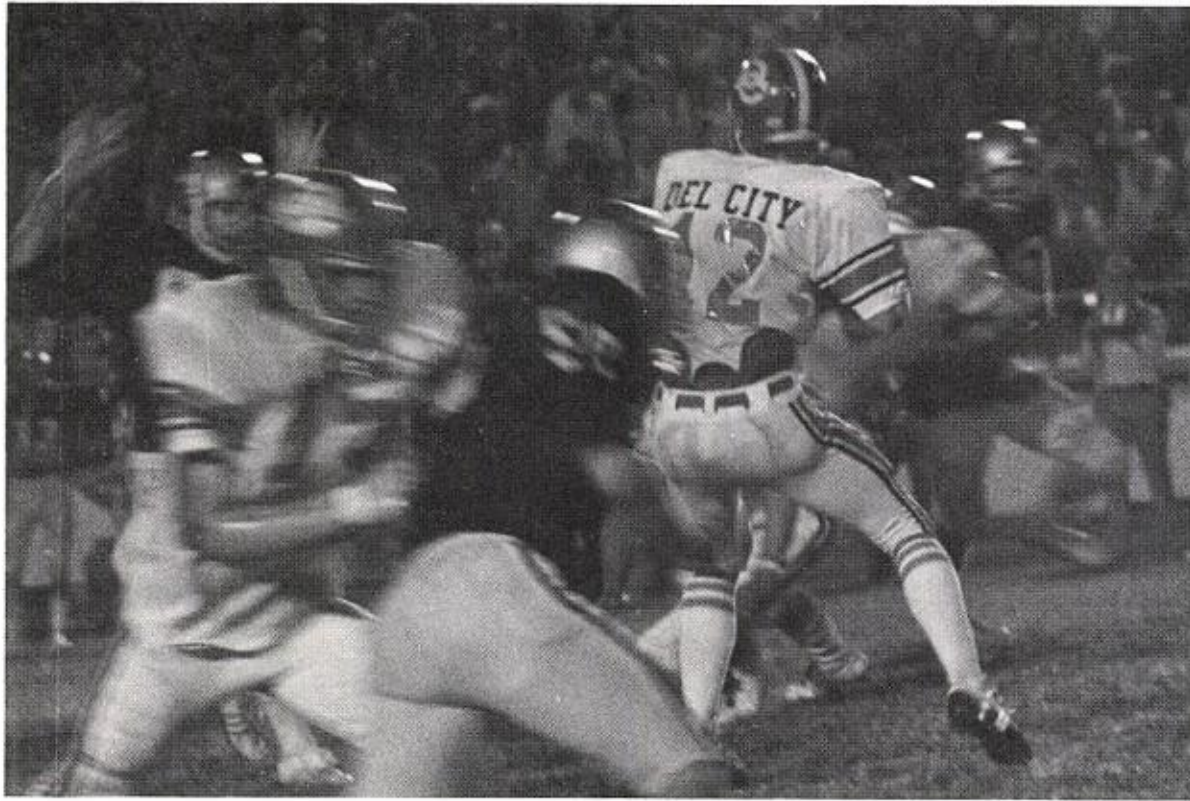

In this era of strong individuality and liberal feelings, the symbolic meaning of the word "spirit" has become an obscure term in secondary schools. At Del City many students had neither the time nor inclination to participate in the various school activities available. Some tolerated the various activities and seemingly "spirit-lifting" pep assemblies as propagandistic material.

Yet, for others, spirit did exist, especially at Del City. Whether the event was a band concert, school assembly, or football game, a zealous and frenzied excitement could be seen in the climactic atmosphere. This avid support alleviated the build up of apathetic feelings and showed that "true" Eagle spirit still existed.

City" Echoes Victoriously

In the fifth classical confrontation between Del City and cross-town rival Midwest City, the game pointed towards a thrilling battle of emotion and anticipated glory. Pre-game festivities were filled with anxiety and hope, as both sides urged their teams towards victory's grasp.

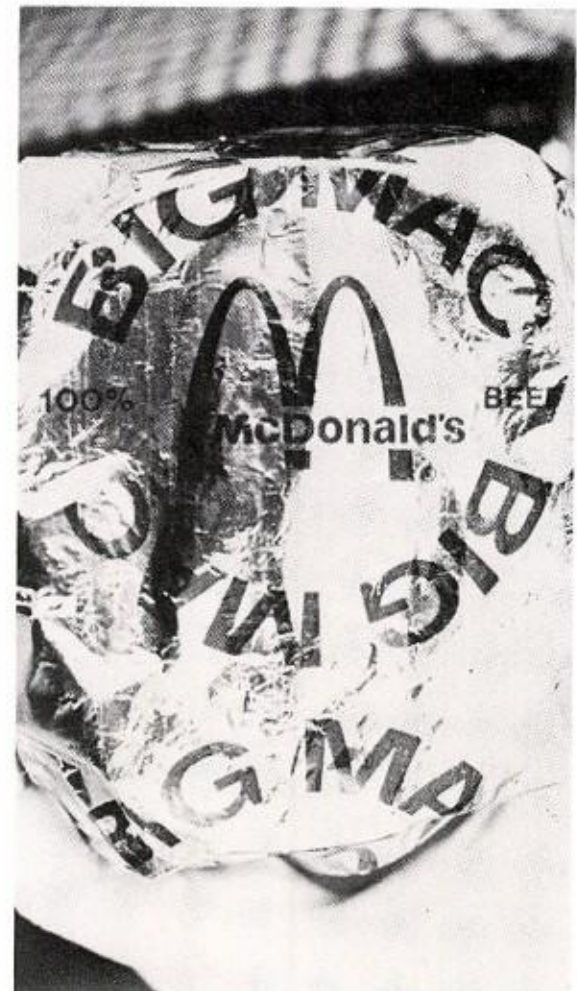

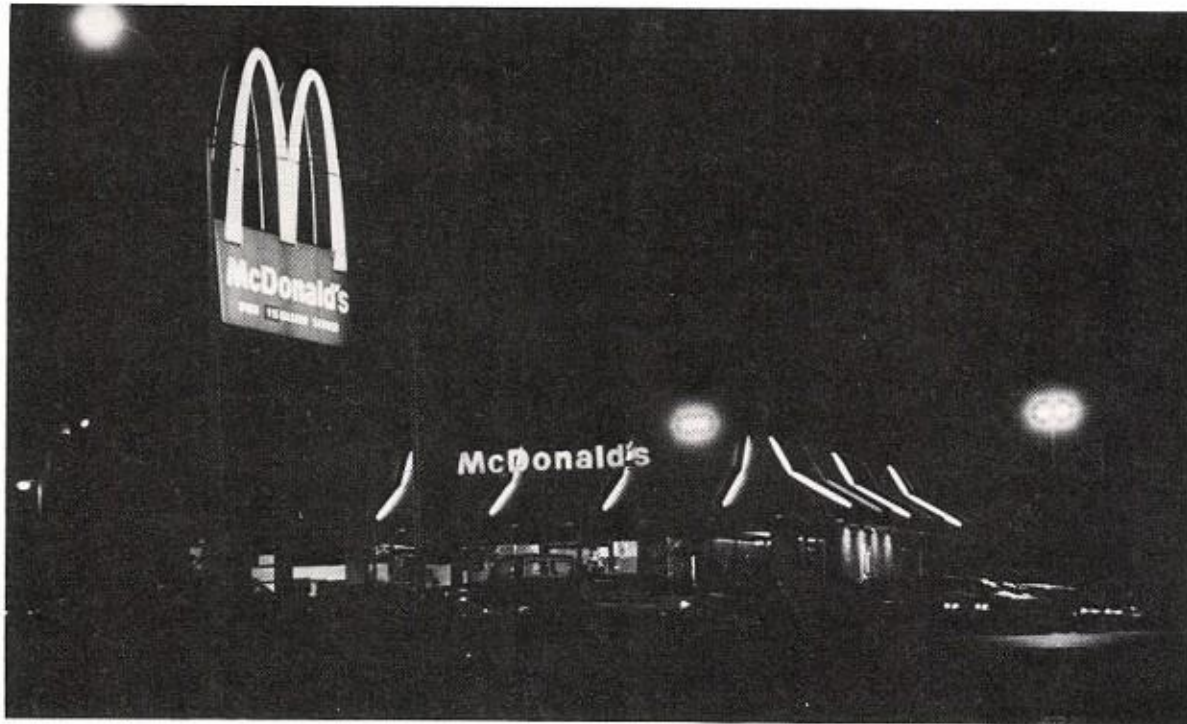

The game held no statistical advantage for the fighting Eagles, except to play the spoiler role on Midwest City's high ranking. Eagles proved that records were insignificant in such a celebrated clash of perennial football powers.

Indeed, statistics did become meaningless except for the final score. Del City, playing flawlessly and with sheer abandon, filled the sky with rocketing passes and defeated the efforts of the Bombers' stingy defense, 36-35. Awe and shock filled the grief-stricken Bombers, as the final seconds ticked off, amid the victorious chants of the zealous Eagle rooters. Again, the Bombers had been brought to a crashing fall by Del City's supreme performance.

Delight Del City Students

With the first piercing shrill of the eleven o'clock bell, the maddest rush since the Christmas shopping escapades began. All students, ranging from various sizes, shapes, and looks, sprinted to their destined cars. Shifting to first, they pursued (and sometimes were pursued) to their Utopian place of gluttonal devoration. It's lunchtime, Del City style!

Students chose from more than thirty eating establishments located around Del City. Yet, they were all linked by one common factor — food! Which further proves, "man cannot live by bread alone!"

DCHS's Del-Aires —

The Del-Aires, Del City's famed choir, began their exodus towards "Europe's Queen of the Danube," Vienna, Austria. After skillfully qualifying for the trip, amidst a large field of many other school choirs, the Del-Aires set out to raise their trip's fee.

Collecting aluminum cans, paper and pop bottles, the Del-Aires worked in a seemingly endless search for contributions. Other fund-raising activities included raffles, contests, sales, and various special appearances. Yet, through the hours of work and worry, the Del-Aires continued to transfer their "messages of love" into the hearts of loyal followers. The Del-Aires were confident of reaching their goal, and showed the determination that has become a stereotyped quality of all Del Cityians.

Future Holds

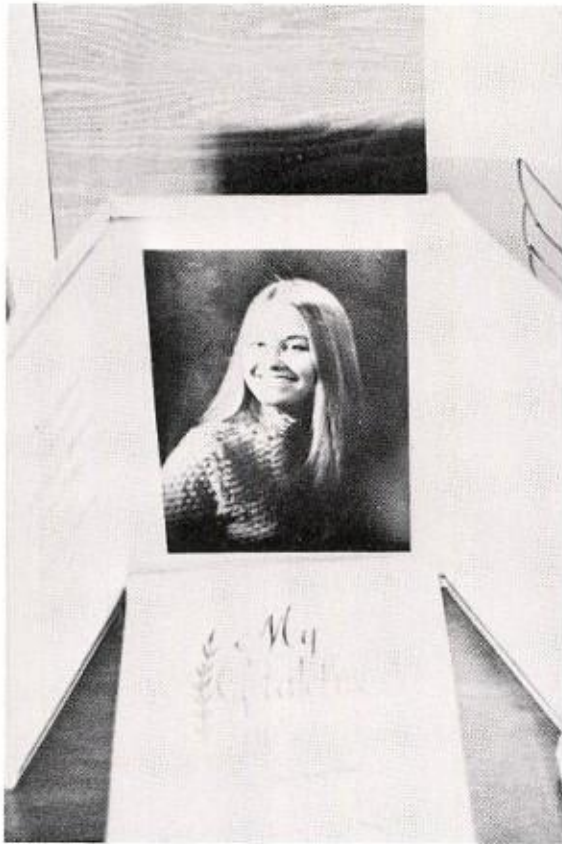

High school offers a very decisive stepping-stone to the future. It's a time of decisions. One's preferred occupation, goals, and hopes must be contemplated directly or indirectly.

To lift the burdens and responsibilities, various information, such as college bulletins were offered for the student's use. Special activities, including a Career Night, provided students at Del City a perspective on the many careers offered by our highly industrialized society. These activities helped stimulate interest and further guide students toward a hopefully bright future.

Land Of Plenty, And More

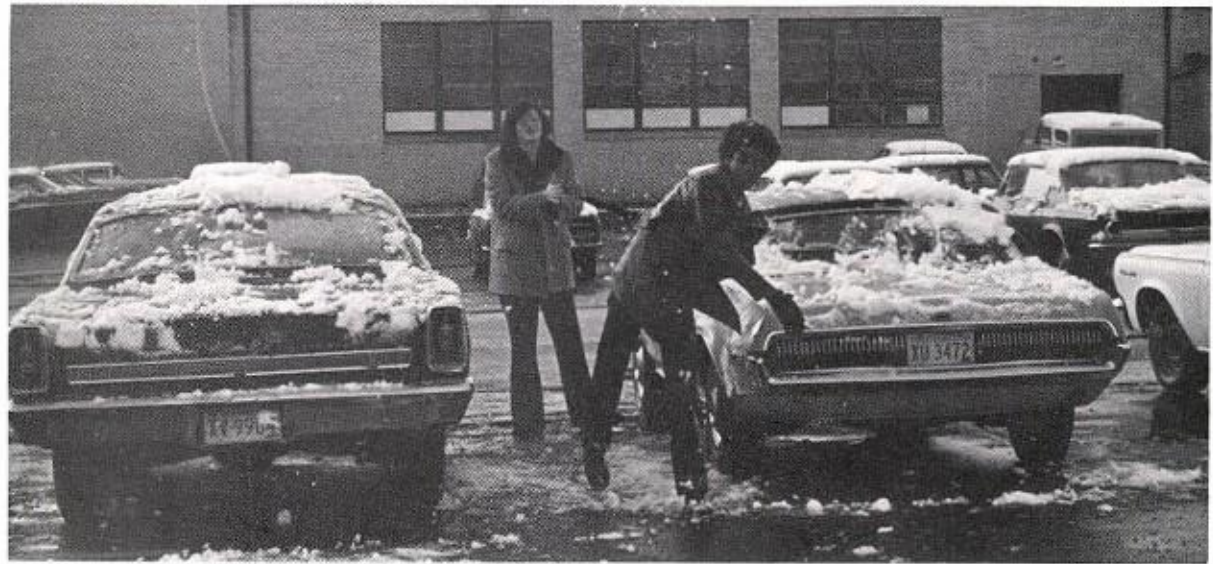

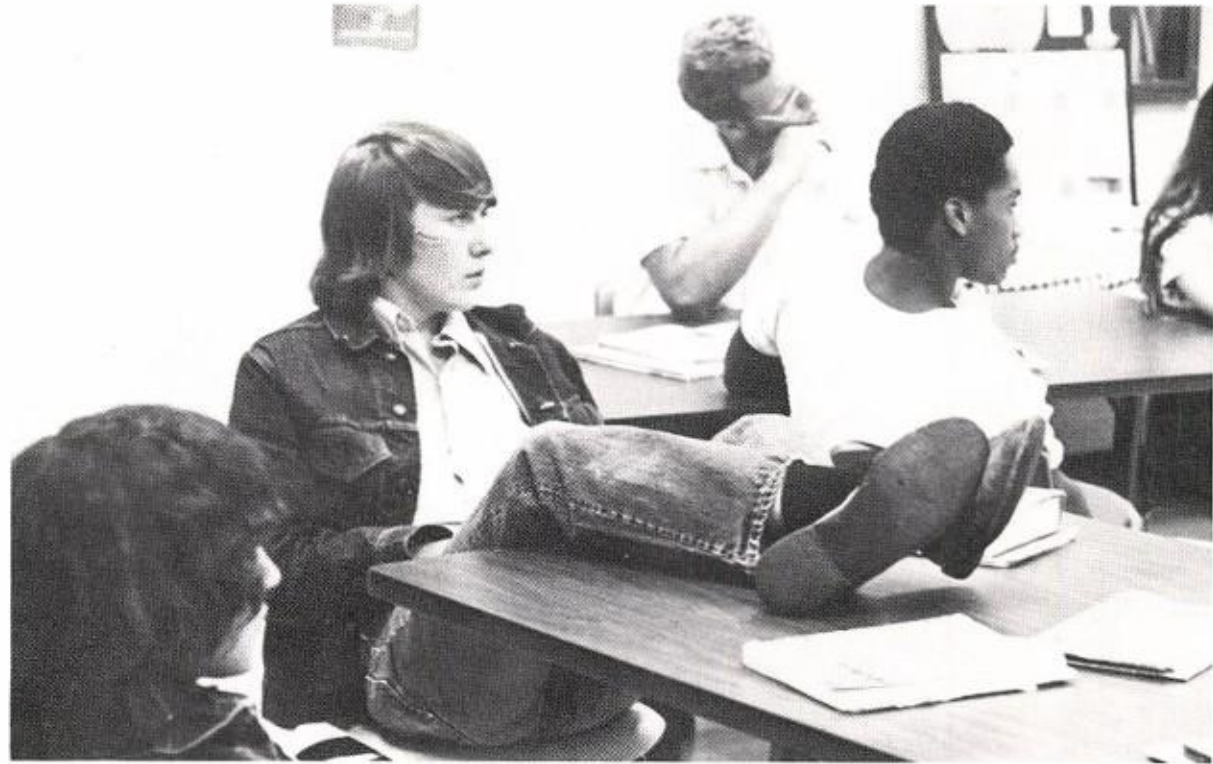

In a state filled with nature's abundant supply of fertile soil and vast supply of petroleum, few stop to consider Oklahoma's physical beauty. In a land where the horizon stretches into the twilight, nature enhances this phenomenal site.

Through this rich terrain, we as Oklahomans, have carved a heritage, distinct and rugged. We have developed a unifying pride in our accomplishments, goals, and future. And indeed, this future is a bright and stellar one. Oklahoma, combining the efforts of communities like Del City, will continually achieve a distinctiveness for all to witness.

Boredom And High Expectations

Christmas season was celebrated by DCHS students with parties and decorations, but the festivities passed quickly. With the emergence of 1975, Del City students started preparing for the long upward journey, ending in May.

Students, especially the senior class, began worrying about grades and graduation and yet, had to fight off the ominous shadow of boredom. Snow alleviated the gloom, but fell in a scarce unproductive way, leaving little for the hand of nature to show.

But, spring produced the sunshine and needed feelings of optimism. Its serenity brought out new friendships, and the beauty of nature's tranquility. Indeed, better days were ahead for all Del City-ians.

The face of the individual, with all of its physical expressiveness, has developed a distinct language of its own. The silent communication of gestures and grimaces can say more than the world of literary or lingual phrases.

DCHS students showed their feelings according to their personal thoughts, attitudes, concerns, and styles. Although the enrollment exhibited the feeling of massive elusiveness, each student could be seen distinctively, as an individual. Faces in the halls, the classrooms, and parking lots were sources of vital interest to the perceptive observer.

Throughout the year, students participated in varied activities. They were able to display their many skills and accomplishments at the numerous assemblies held throughout school year 1974-75.

The assemblies honored their achievements and participation in such areas as athletics, music, sportsmanship and citizenship. Del Cityians showed their gifted ability, which had been enhanced by many hours of dedicated practice.

Comes To Del City High

Behind the glamorous spotlights of Broadway is the disgruntled playwright, nervously fingering a half-lit cigarette, as he rewrites what he hopes will be another classical in the dramatic theatre. Every once in awhile, his hand pens a play that is destined to become a success. "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," written by Meredith Wilson, and produced by Del City students in '75 is an example of successful theatre work.

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown," directed by Mrs. Long and Mr. Staton was an extravagant production with over forty cast members. The musical was presented through the joint efforts of music and drama departments. This cooperative endeavor followed a tradition established in '74. Featured in the starring roles were Brenda Williams as Molly Brown and Guy Don Bills as Johnny "Leadville" Brown.

Achievements In Many Areas

VICA Queen: Debbie Ferree

Students at Del City upheld the high standards of their school and demonstrated outstanding ability and excellence in different fields of endeavor.

They were honored for their respective achievements by established groups outside the school. This brought honor not only to the individual, but to the entire student body and faculty at Del City High School.

Student Body Elects Mr And Miss DCHS

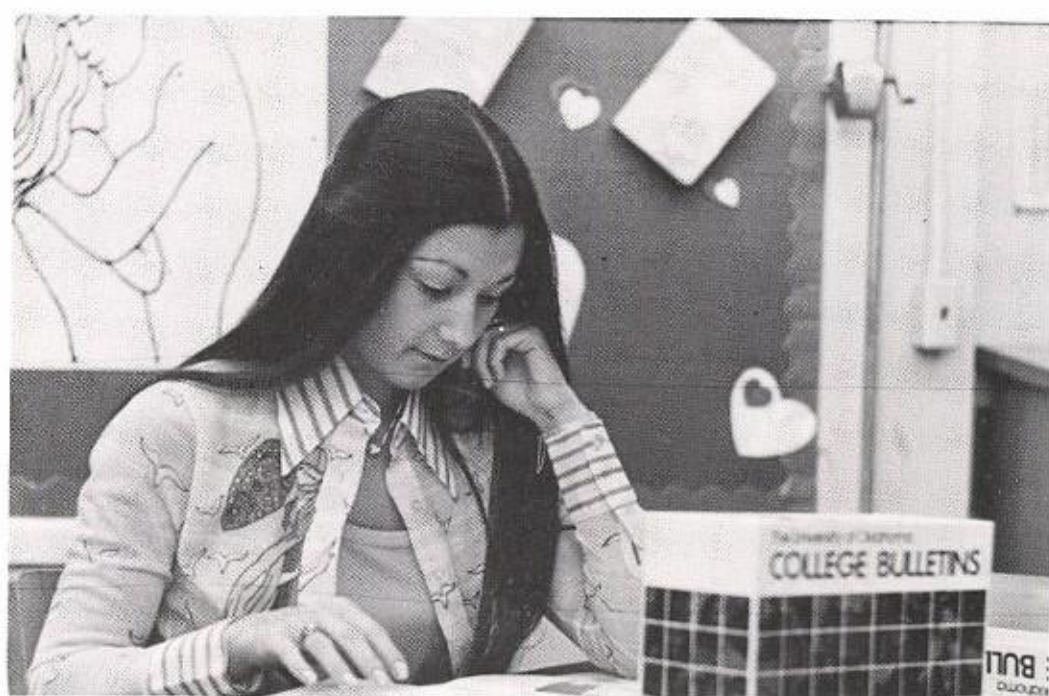

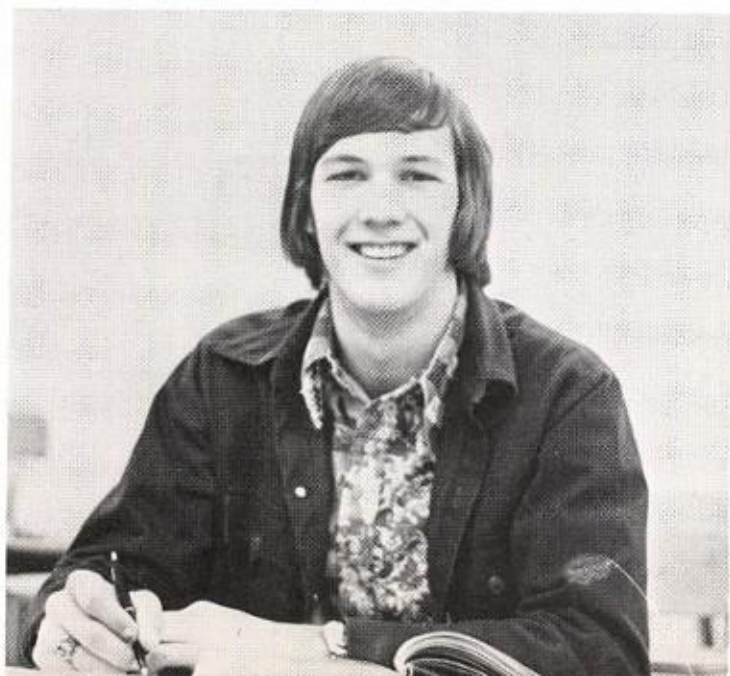

The student body selected Garry Smith and Barbara DeShazo for the honor of Mr. and Miss Del City. They were selected for their leadership and citizenship qualities, academic achievements and also for their school spirit and pride for Del City High.

Garry was a member of the football and basketball teams. He was chosen by the Pep Club as Mr. Football and was also a senior favorite, Best All Around. He was President of FCA, Vice-president of Key Club and belonged to National Honor Society and the Spanish Club.

Barbara was Recording Secretary of the Pep Club. She was an attendant for both football and basketball and also the Track Princess. She was Treasurer of her class and was chosen as a senior favorite, Best Dressed. She belonged to National Honor Society, Student Council, Tri-Hi-Y, and the Yearbook Staff.

Free Time For Students Is Limited

From the time the clattering alarm clock kicks the startled student out of his warm bed, to the time he stumbles out of sixth hour carrying the Library of Congress under his arms, his stay at school seems like eternity has passed. Yet the average student spends only 14.38% of the year at school. Subtracting sleep (a necessity, even for students), totals show the student has 47.71% of the year to himself.

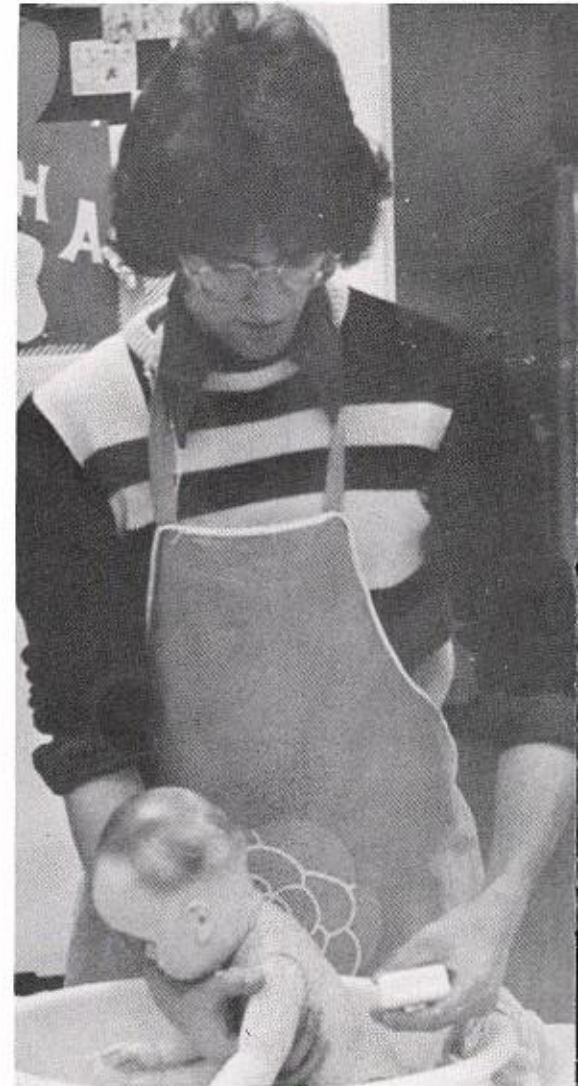

Many varied activities dominate his recreational time. Whether the time is spent washing his car, strolling down the road, or even sleeping, the 47.71% flashes by quickly. To the students dismay, the 14.38% seems more like 114.38%.

Education's Pleasure

DCHS consisted of approximately two-thousand individuals, residing in a small, but efficient area. The school was faced with the task of meeting the needs of each student.

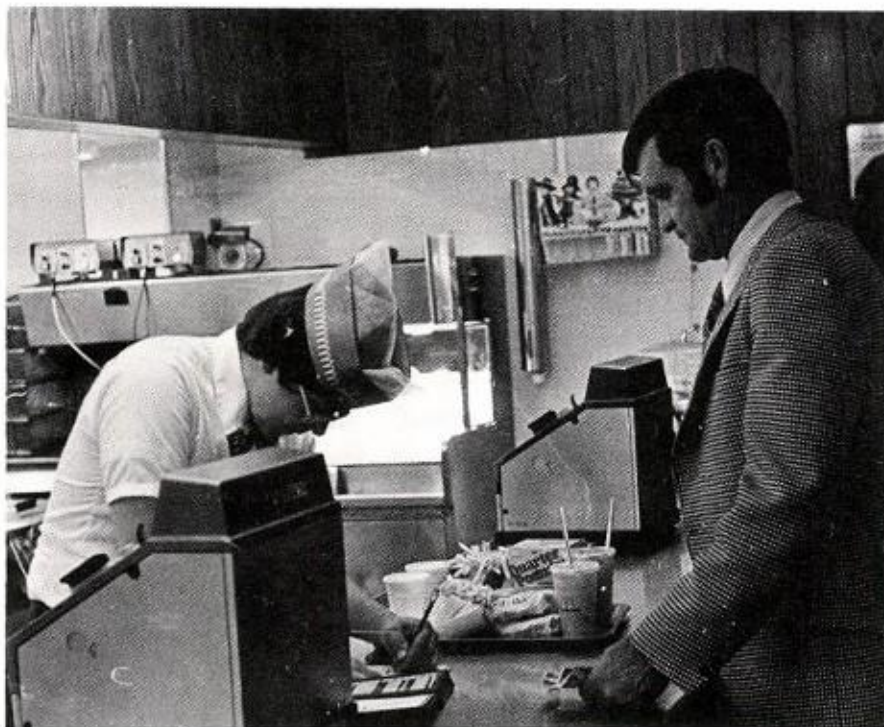

To meet this extraordinary demand many activities were planned for the benefit of the student body. These activities, situated in classes and other spontaneous places such as the halls, varied in interest and delighted the students, giving them more than just an education but a new perspective on life.

Employment Becomes

In an era of highly-developed technology and computerized sciences, the American youth has become more relaxed and independent in his actions. Vast amounts of recreational time have been placed into his hands, leaving him free to explore many fields of interest, such as photography, music, art, or sports.

Yet, for some Del City students, interests and activities were secondary to the need to obtain jobs, in hopes of easing financial strain. Their jobs varied, but they were rewarded by modern society's must — the paycheck. But Del City students received more than just "some change in the pocket," they learned the true value of hard work and the grimy sweat that accompanies it. Del Cityians learned what life really is — sharing their skills with others.

ACADEMICS

Students Develop Communication

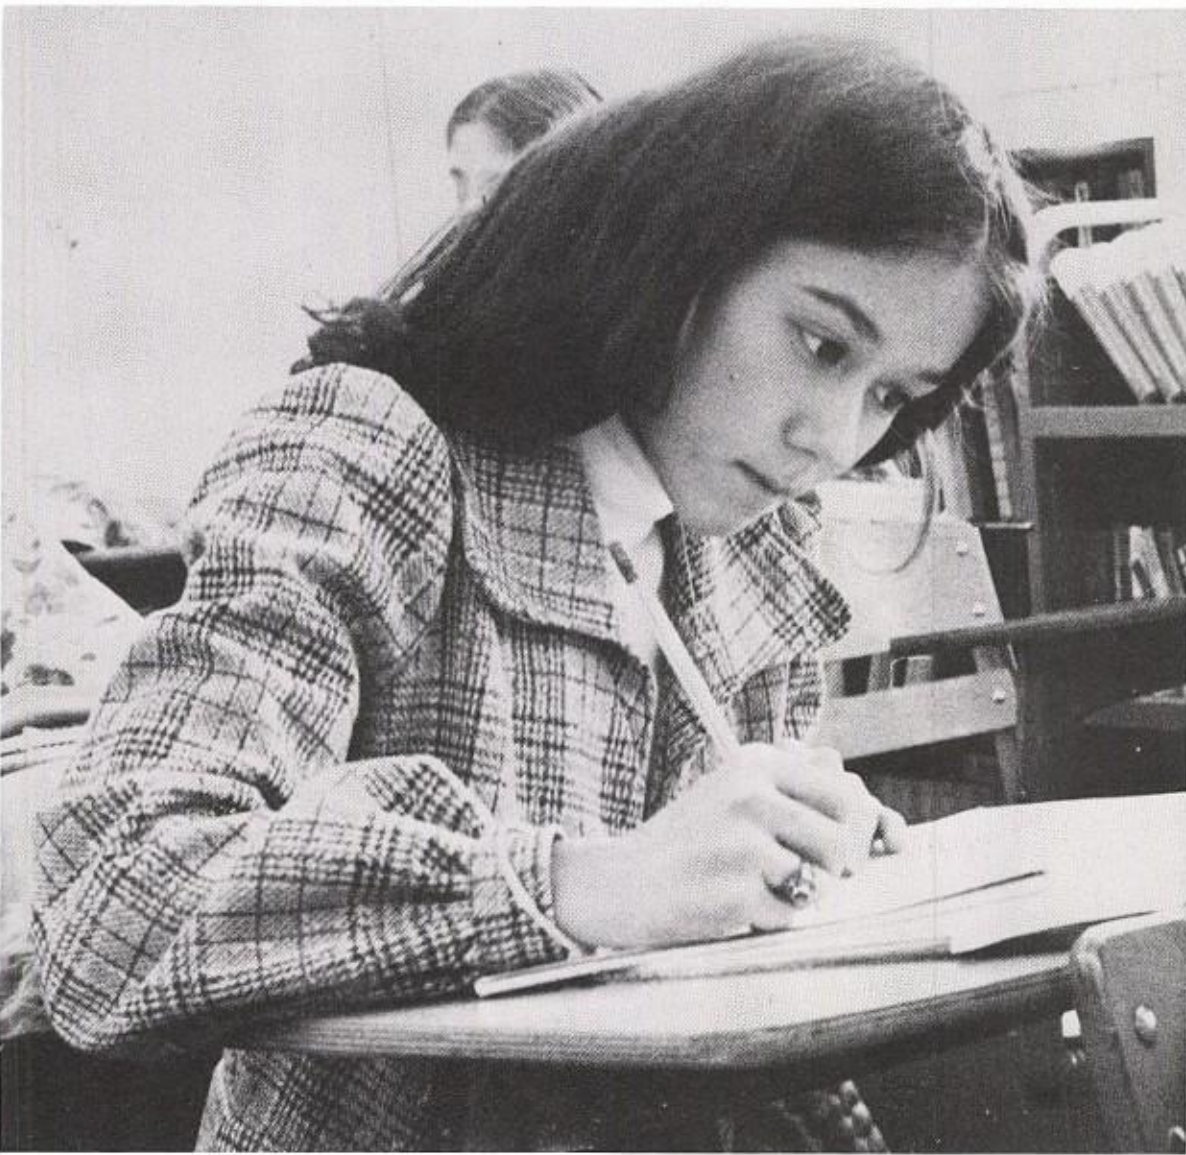

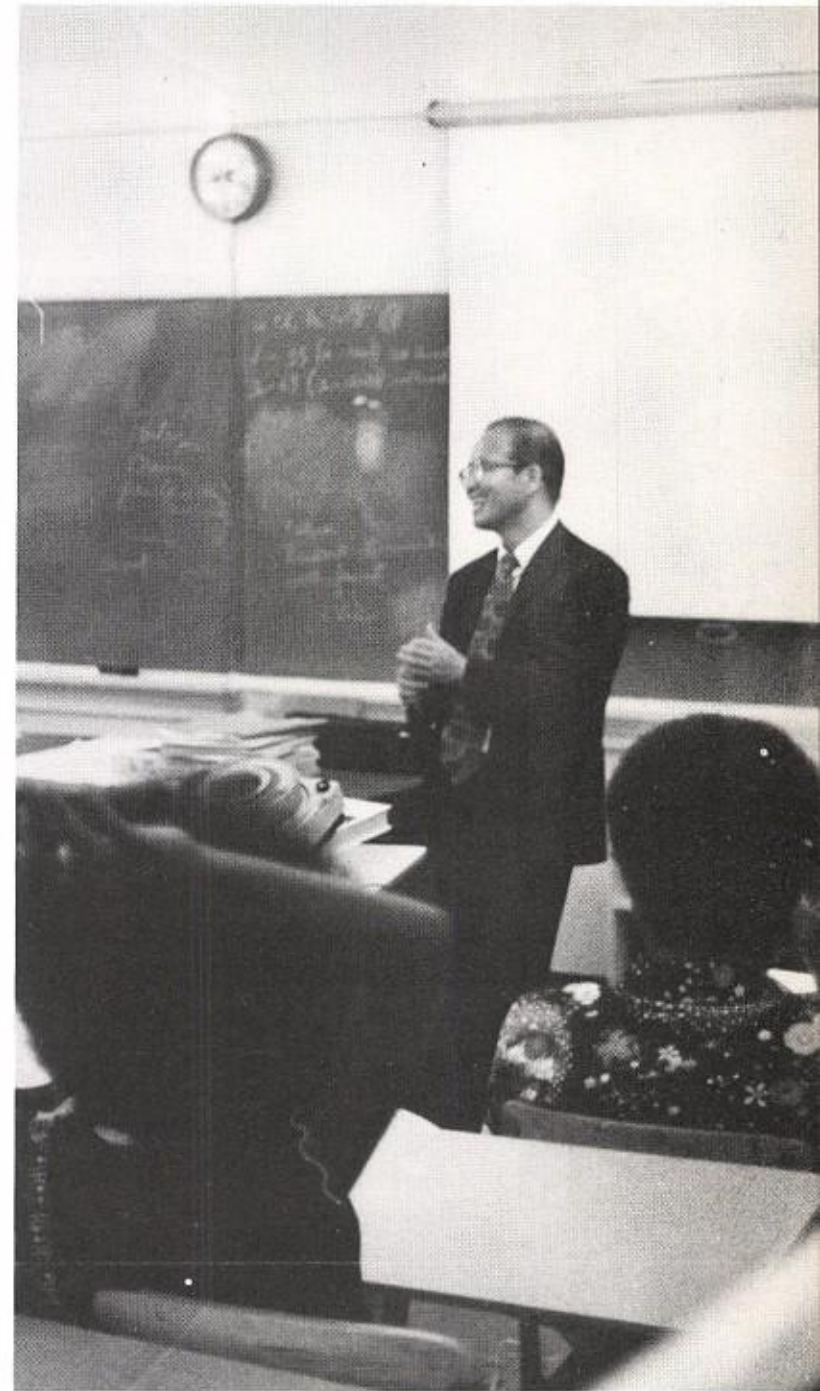

Headed by Mrs. Maxyne Kelley, the English department added Miss Cathy Burnett and Mrs. Shirley Kline to the Del City faculty. English students studied a variety of literature, according to their grade, ranging from Shakespeare to Edgar Allen Poe. Grammar was focused upon mostly during sophomore and junior years and during the senior year the study of literature, research, and composite writing was the main study. English was required all three years of high school to graduate.

Journalism students this year were offered journalism I, and II and III, which was working on the school newspaper and could be taken in the place of English. The newspaper, the Eagle Beacon, was sponsored by Mrs. Pat Fuller.

Students Gain Experience By

Another phase of the journalism department was the yearbook staff. Made up of twenty-five students and the sponsor, Miss Carol Stortz, the staff worked diligently first hour every day plus numerous hours after school and on weekends to make their deadlines. Drawing layouts, cropping pictures, copy writing were all a part of the work involved in putting together a yearbook.

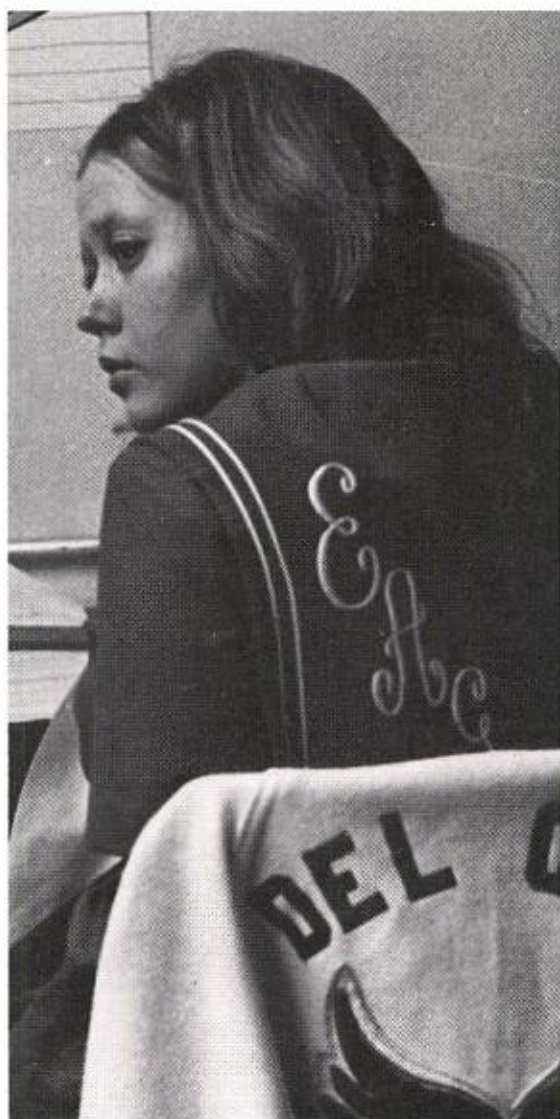

Teacher's aides, office aides, and library aides offered valuable assistance to teachers, secretaries, and librarians. Students also gained experience in office practice, learning the library system, and working with other people.

Foreign Language Provides New Areas Of Studies

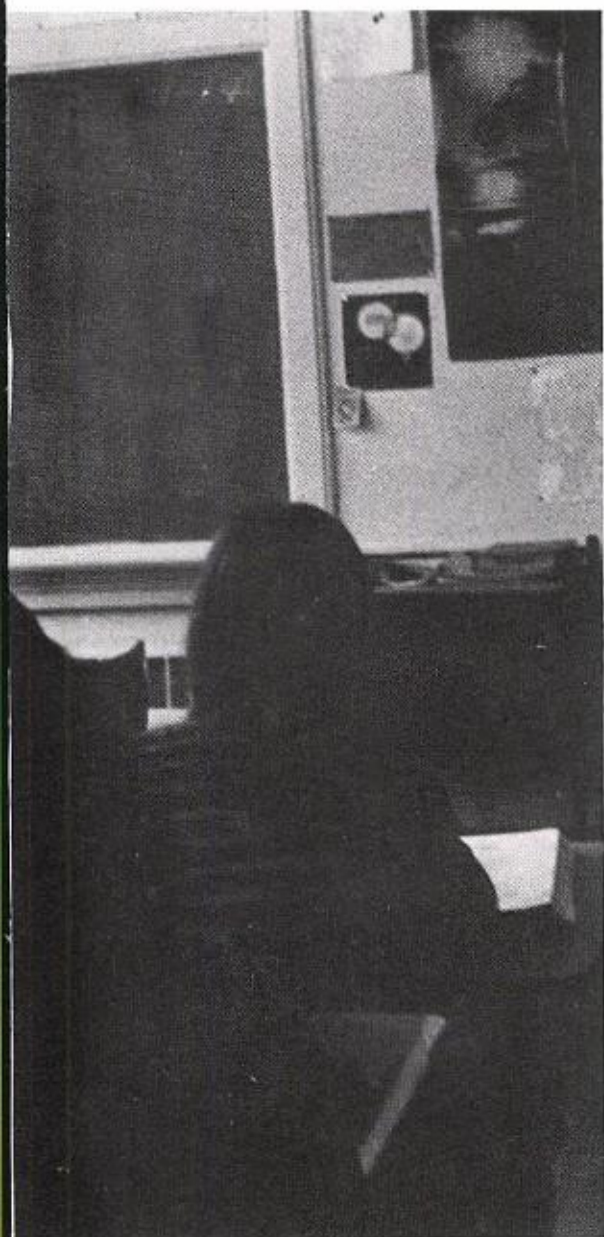

Three foreign languages were offered at Del City during the year. These were Spanish I and II, taught by Mrs. Lilia Klentos, Mrs. Helen Kinnear, German I and II, taught by Miss Mildred Marson, and French I and II, taught by Mrs. Anita Dilling. Students were not required to take a foreign language course in order to graduate; however, they were highly recommended to do so if they were planning on going to college.

During classtime, foreign language students not only conjugated verbs, but also participated in singing songs written in one of the three languages. The French class took time out of class to prepare French recipes in the family living room.

Social Studies Brings Awareness

The history department was made up not only of history subjects, but related subjects in the social science area such as psychology, anthropology, and sociology. Mr. Don Branham headed the department. The only required history course was American history for juniors, yet the history department had one of the highest enrollments.

In American history, students were given a choice of the period of history they could take. Anthropology students studied a wide variety of subjects as they had no textbook to follow. Psychology and sociology students studied the behavioral sciences while American political awareness classes became familiar with the political system in the United States.

Knowledge Gained By Experimentation

The science department, headed by Mr. Louis Jones, offered students many varieties of science courses, such as earth science, biology, advanced biology, chemistry I and II, physiology, physics, astronomy, and aeroscience. Biology courses were taken mainly by sophomores, while remaining courses were taken primarily by students who were planning their future in or around the field of science. Science students were involved in lab work ranging from the dissection of different animals to the use and mixtures of chemicals. The science department made two additions to its faculty, Mr. Gary Rose, who taught earth science, and Mr. Don Davies, a Biology teacher.

RIGHT: Bob Dimski, Danny Brodt, and Tom Jacob are involved in the biological game, Extinction. BELOW RIGHT: Scott Douglas uses his scientific knowledge to conduct an experiment.

In the fine arts department, students were offered arts and crafts, speech, debate, band, and music.

Under the instruction of Mr. Andrew Vogt, Mrs. Marge Sauer, and Mr. Bill Hart, art and arts and crafts students developed their talents and artistic skills. Art I, II, III, and IV were taught by Mr. Vogt. Mr. Hart and Mrs. Sauer taught arts and crafts which students took as a fun course or as a course to prepare them for a vocation such as in the area of teaching.

Mrs. Phyllis Griffin has been the speech and debate teacher at Del City for seven years. Students could take part in many speech and debate teams at contest. In class they learned how to give all kinds of speeches to develop their speaking skills.

Mrs. Jeanne Long, drama instructor, assisted drama students in putting on one-act plays and usually a full-length comedy or drama once a year. They also joined together with the music department and put on a musical. Also students could take stage-craft and play production.

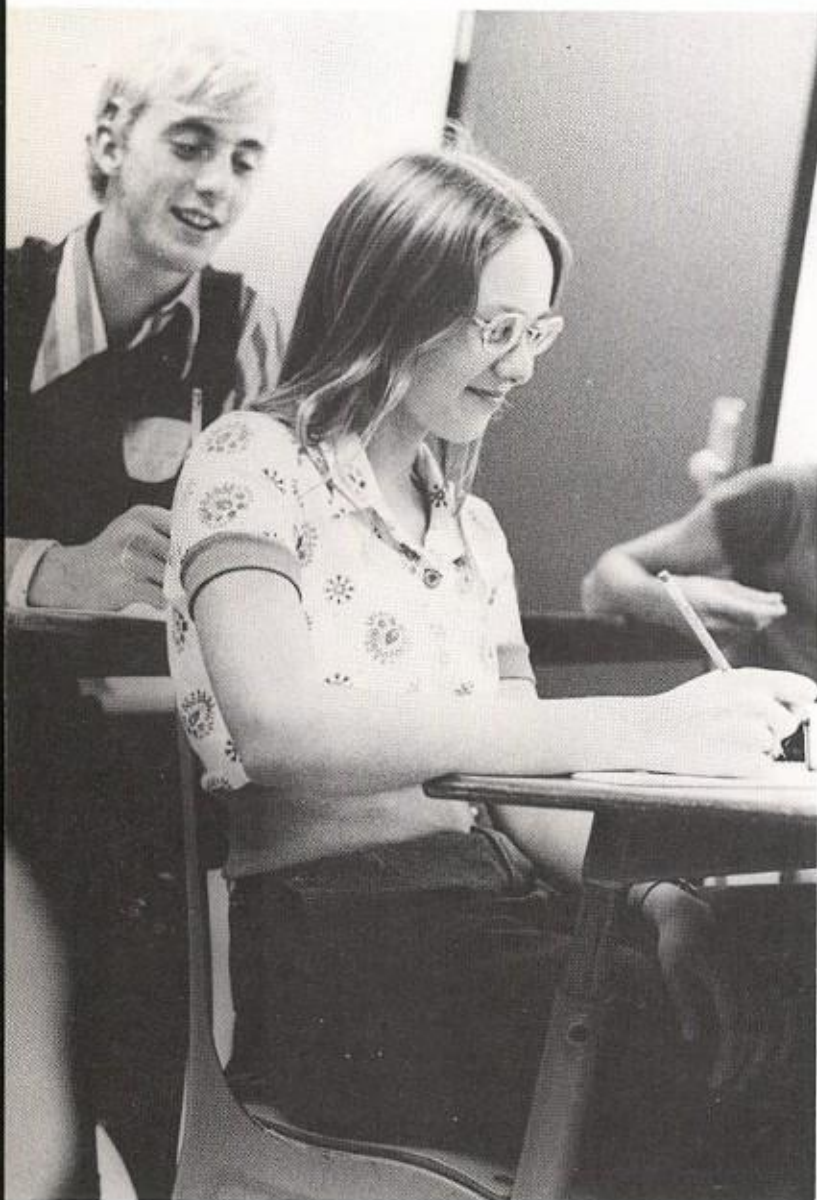

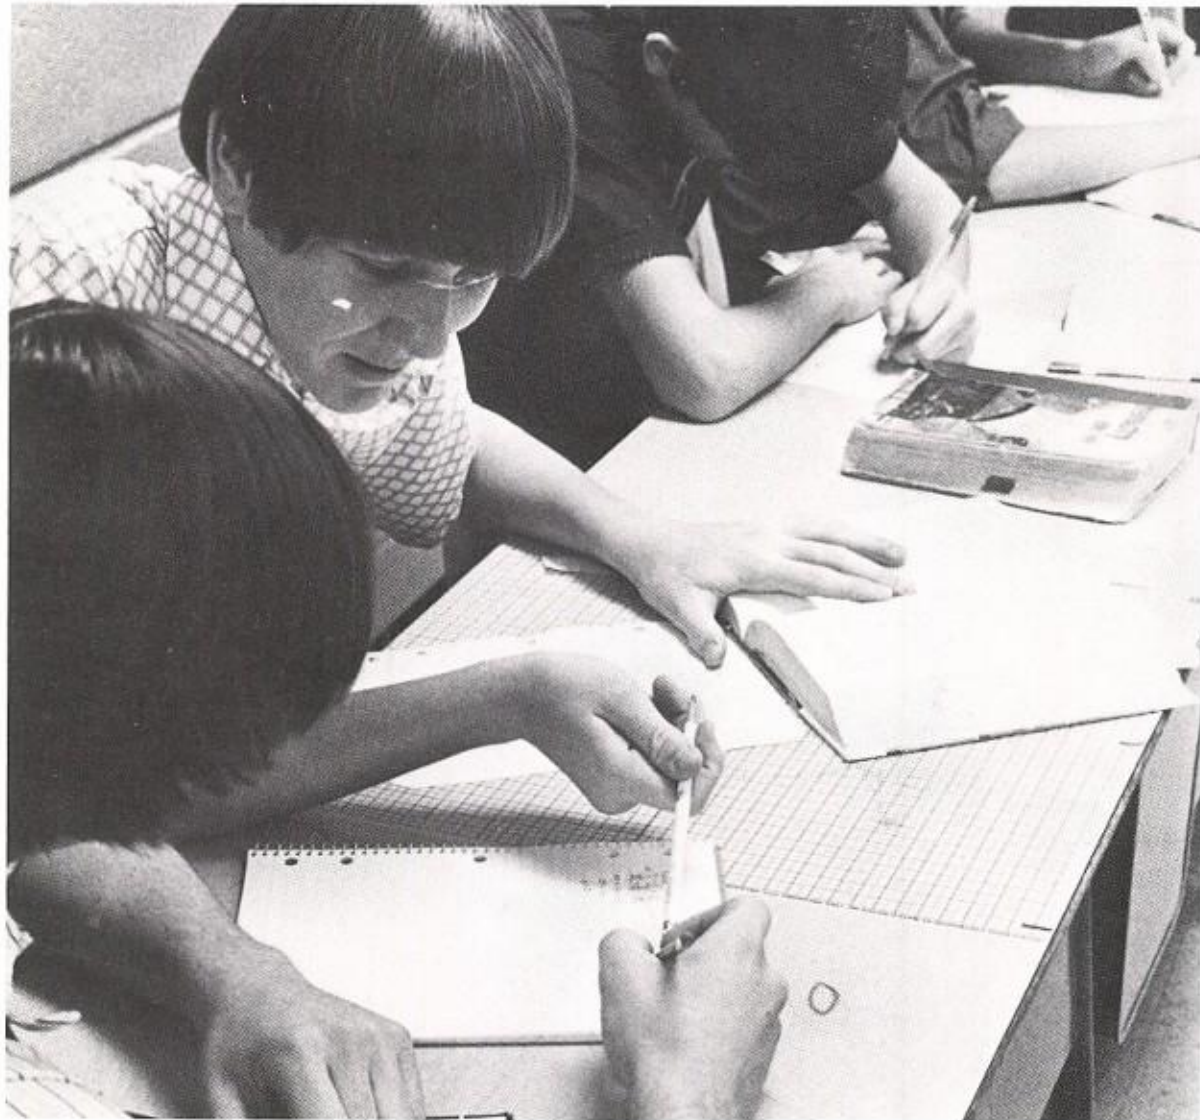

Math Develops Calculating Skills

Students interested in math and math-related subjects had a variety of courses to choose from.

Mr. Leslie Newsom, Mr. David Holt, Mr. Louis Jones, Mr. Allen Melton, Mrs. Jan Prober, and Mr. Ron Lovett were instructors for these courses. Offered this year were Algebra I and II, high school math, geometry, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and math analysis.

These courses prepared students for medicine, engineering, and other vocations requiring a math background.

Shop Classes Promote Creativity

Students enrolled in the industrial art classes were able to expand their skills and creativity. There was woodwork and mechanical drawing to choose from, and a wide variety of projects they could work on. Mr. Don Ethridge, Mr. Fred Aaron, and Mr. C. D. Foster were the instructors for these classes. Courses were open to all sophomore, junior, and senior students.

Home Ec, Family Living Give Experience for Daily Life

The home economics department, headed by Mrs. Marion Fee, offered sophomore, junior, and senior girls home ec II, III, and IV. In these courses, girls were taught advanced cooking, sewing, first aid, personal hygiene, and child care.

Family living classes were closely associated with home ec classes but were co-educational. Girls who had had home ec II were not allowed to take family living as it covers about the same things, with family living focusing more on family life and marriage. Besides Mrs. Fee, the other home ec and family living teachers were Mrs. Hilda Jordan and Mrs. Penny Scott.

Business Opportunities

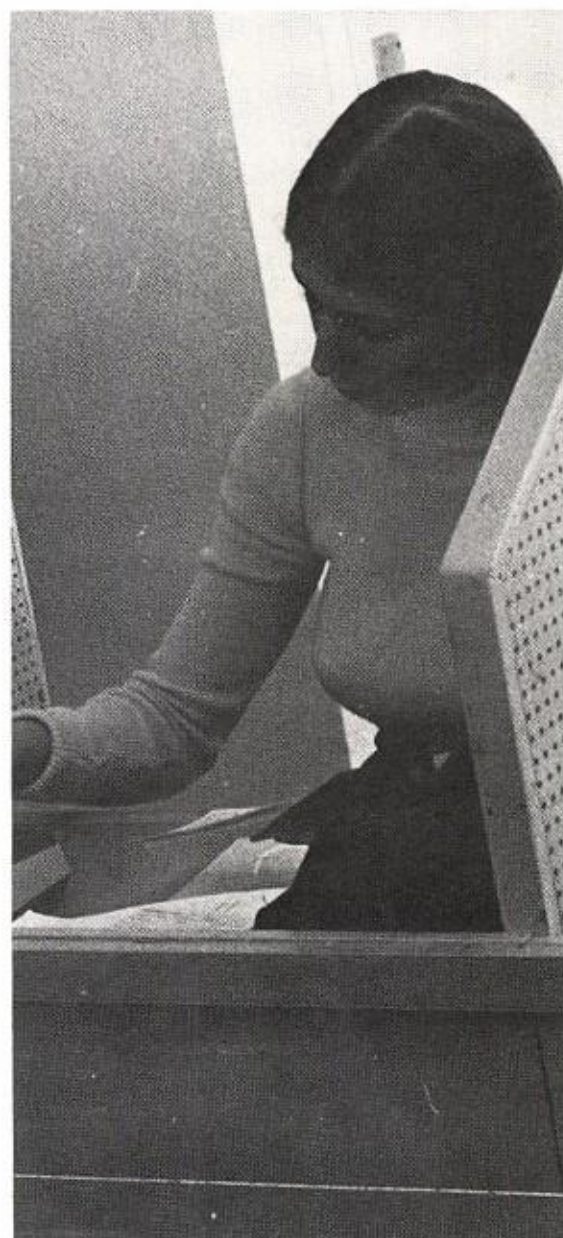

Headed by Mrs. Audrey Moon, the business education department of Del City High School offered students a wide variety of business courses to prepare them for future careers. One program, Cooperative Office Education, gave students an opportunity to maintain a job during school hours, while also taking courses to improve their business skills. Other courses offered were typing I and II, personal typing, shorthand I and II, notehand, general business, and office practice. This year the business department had an enrollment of 1,367.

The new additions to the business staff were Mrs. Pam Griffith and Mr. Dave Robertson.

P.E. And Drivers Ed

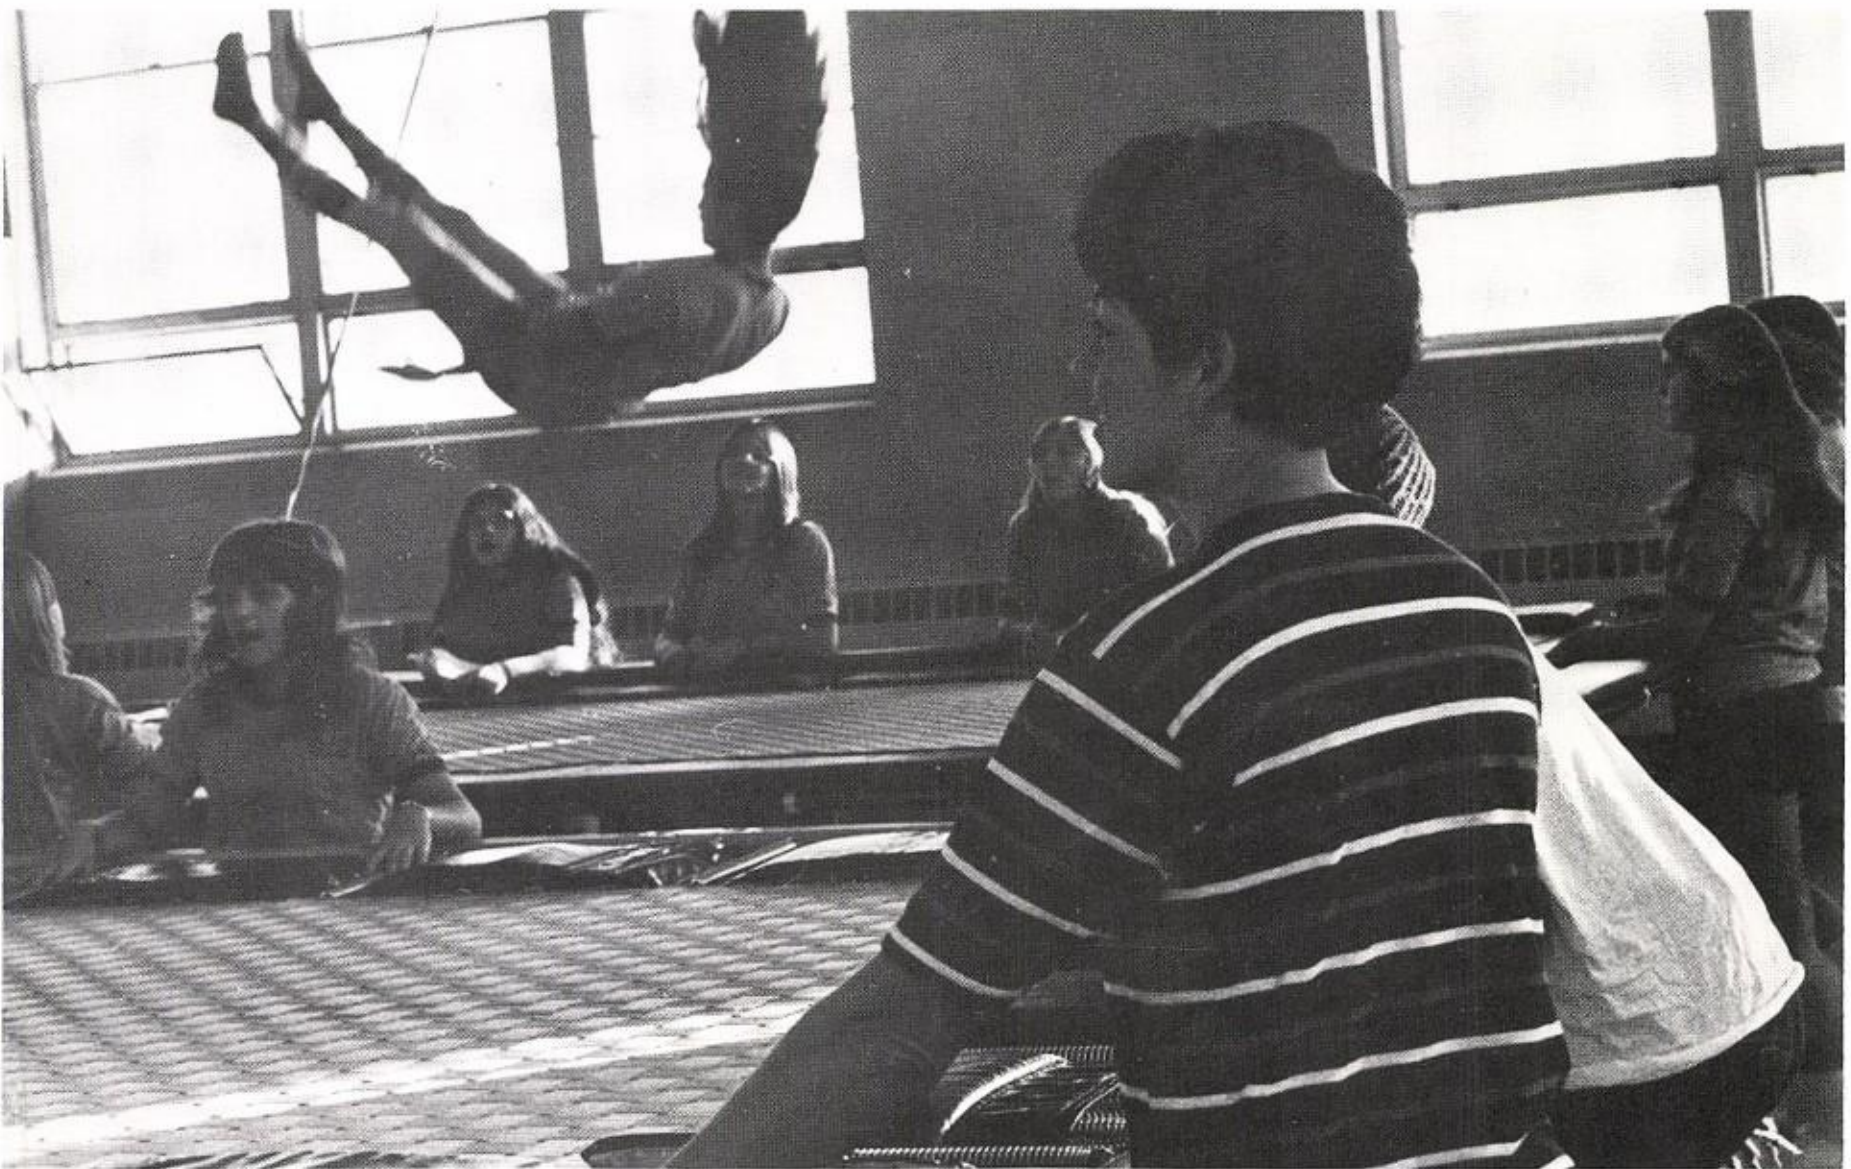

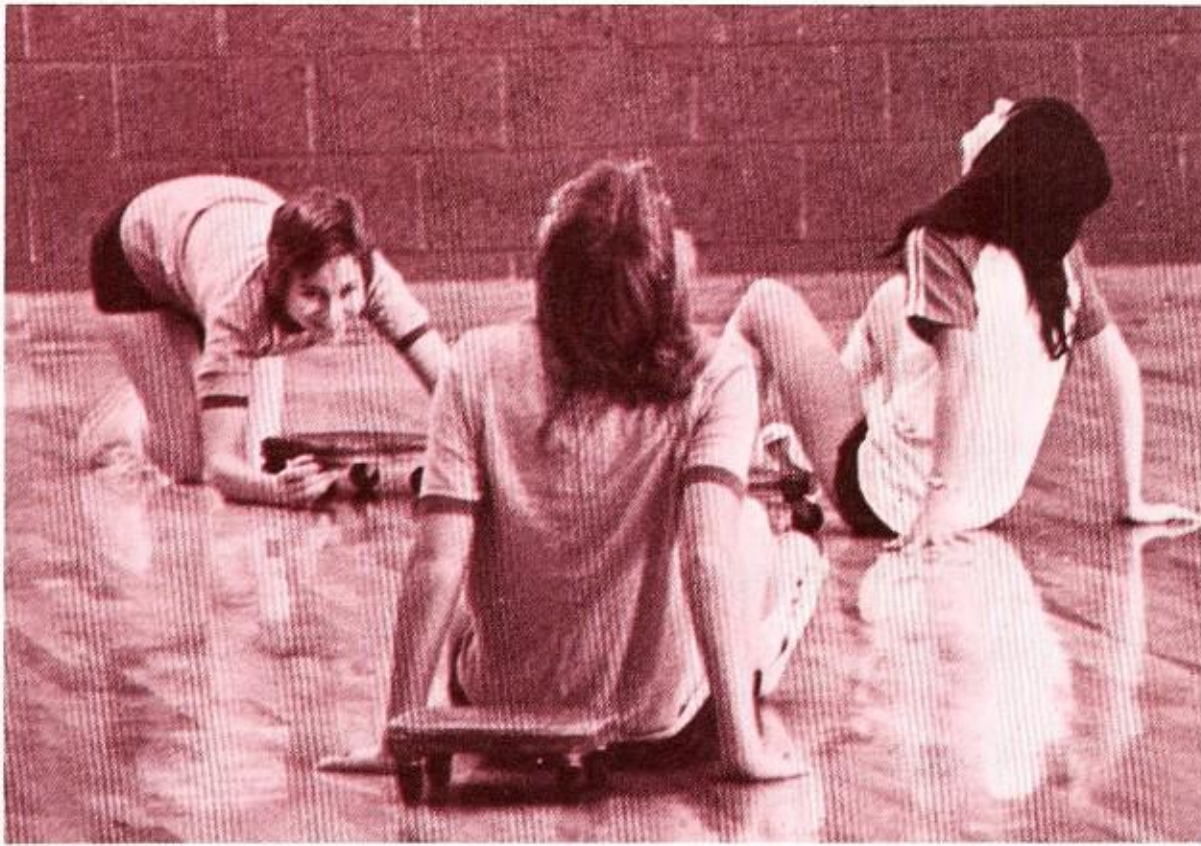

The physical education program at Del City, headed by Mr. Dan Willett and Mrs. Carol Morrison, offered students standard P.E. courses including gymnastics, taught by Mr. Larry Fisher and Mrs. Morrison, and team sports, which allowed students to improve their athletic ability and to compete against other schools. Students in girls P.E. had an opportunity to learn archery, tennis, and fencing this year. Boys P.E. students participated in intramural basketball, volleyball, and in conditioning exercises.

Students enrolled in driver's education, taught by Mr. Frank Hughes, Mr. Phil Elerick, Mr. Tom Maxwell, and Mr. Ron Lovett, were able to learn driving skills by classroom instruction, simulator experience, and actual driving experience. Driver's education not only gave students experience before they obtained their driver's license, but also enabled them to receive a discount on their insurance.

Special Ed, Deaf Ed Learn Basic Skills

The special education program at Del City was designed to give those students who would not otherwise have had an opportunity, a chance to learn practical skills and basic concepts. Mr. Richard Dixon and Mrs. Ina Albertson worked together in the program as teachers and counselors, helping to find employment for their students.

Mr. Dixon worked with basic reading skills and social studies. He also worked with the students' social development and self-concept. Mrs. Albertson taught practical math, grammar, spelling, and reading. Both teachers worked on individual and group activities.

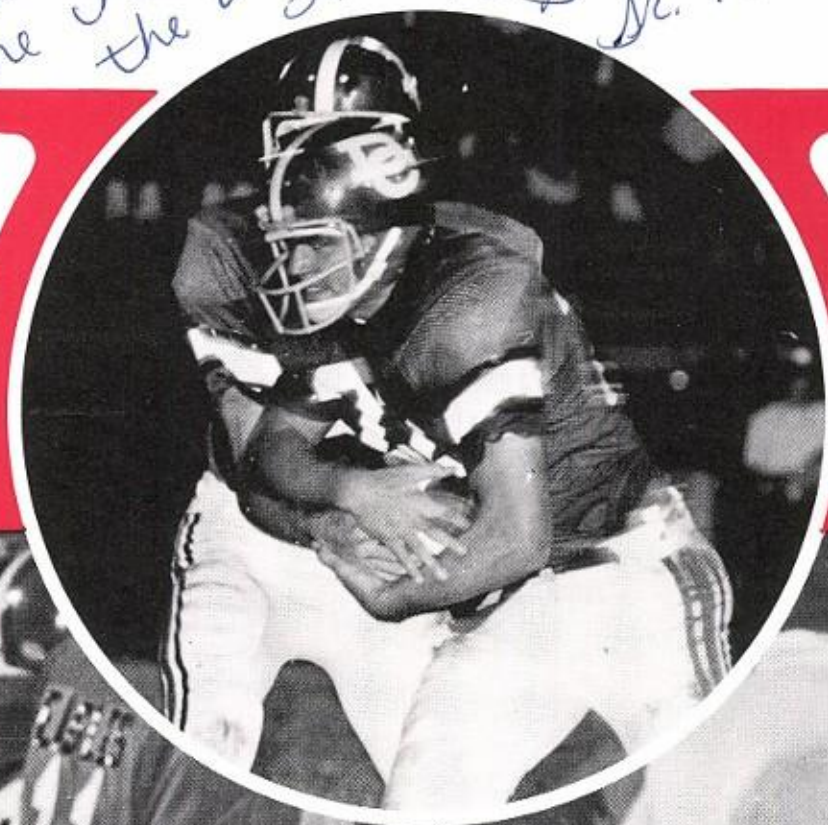

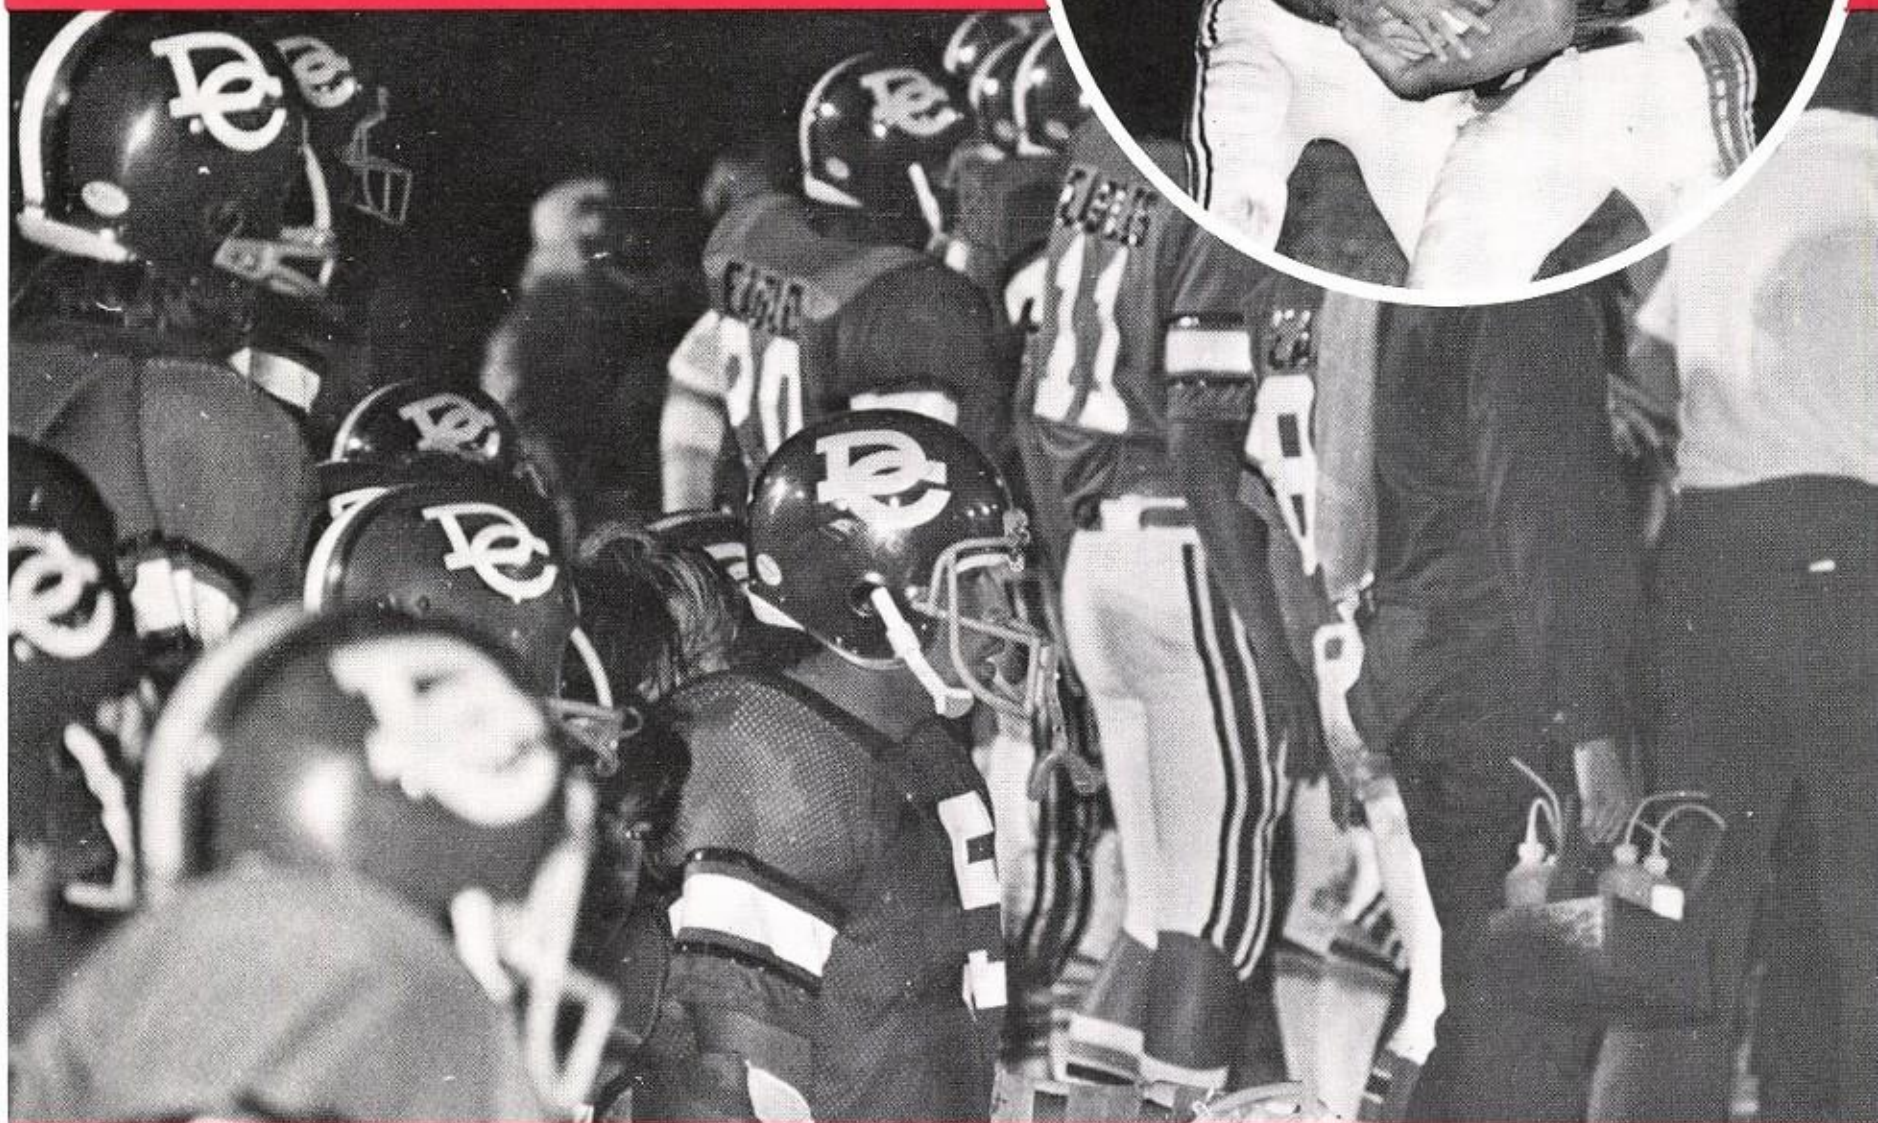

Deaf education offered deaf students not only basic curriculum, but also practical experience in finding jobs and planning careers. Taught by Mrs. Thelma Rex, deaf students had the opportunity to have classes with other students fifth and sixth hours, choosing from a variety of elective courses. The students also learned sign language, lip reading, speech, and auditory training.

Potent Offense Shows

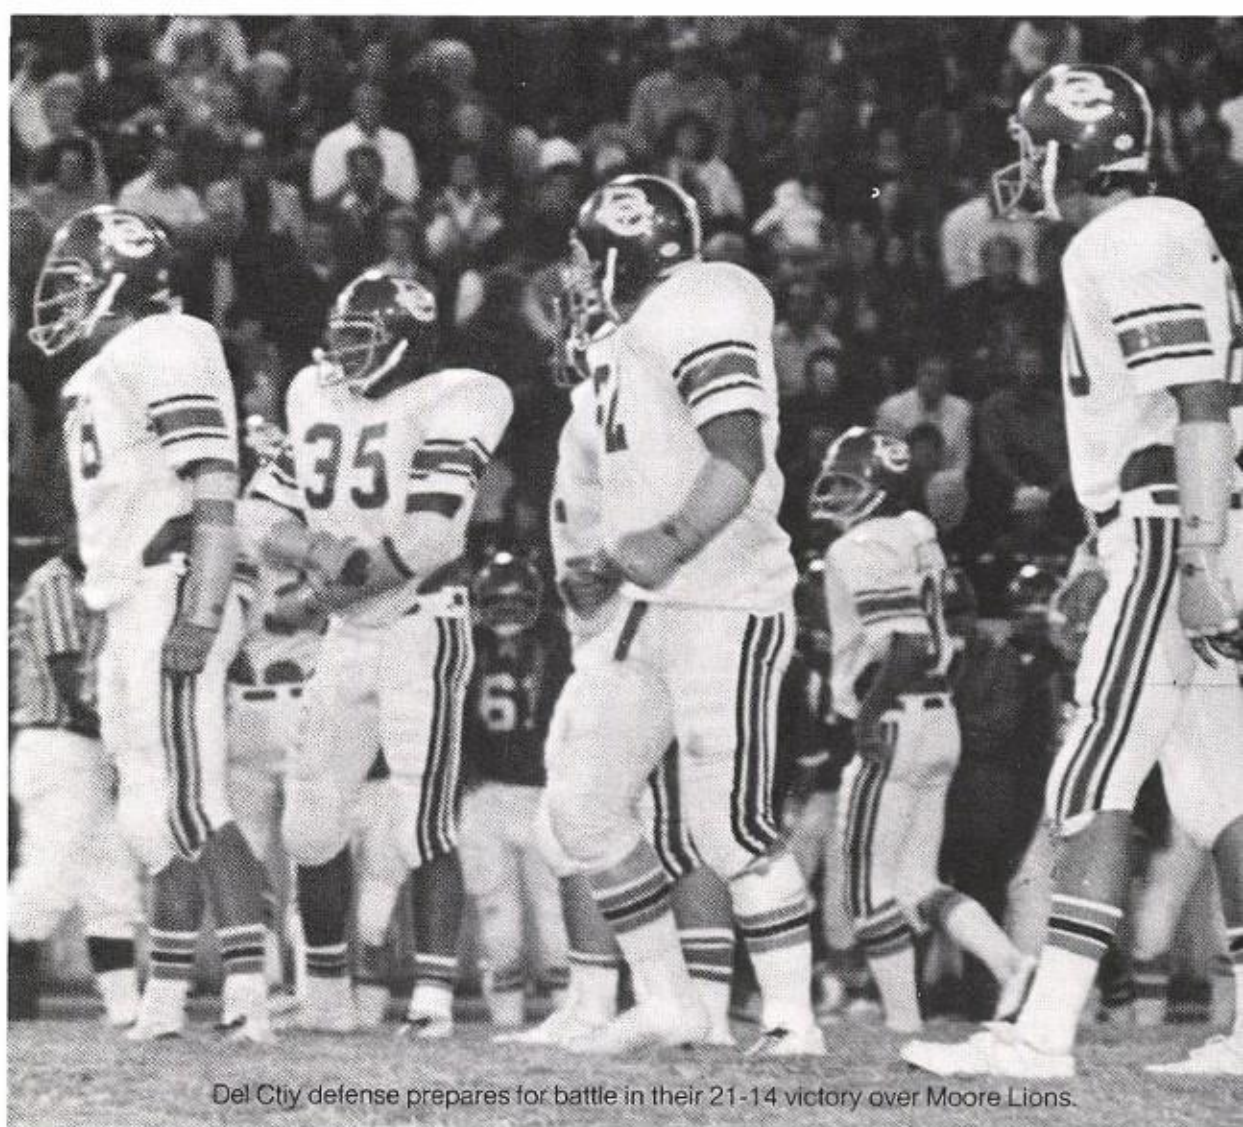

Spirit was high as the footballers and fans anticipated the opening game with U.S. Grant. The opener ended in a 27-27 deadlock. Eagles traveled the following week to Moore. The offense powered the team to a 21-14 victory. But disaster struck for the next three weeks. Rain plagued the game with Northwest and the score ended 13-0 in favor of the Knights. Homecoming with it's gay festivities was spoiled by a 43-12 defeat. Eagles visited Rose Field for the following two weeks. The first clash was with Carl Albert. The Titans handed the Eagles a humiliating defeat of 27-21. A major turning point of the 1974 season was the rival clash of Del City vs. Midwest City. Spirit and pride led the Eagles to a 36-35 victory. The spirit still lingered as the Eagles met 3A powerhouse Southeast, which ended in an Eagle victory of 40-32. The Eagles played their next game on the muddy home field against Putnam City, which ended in a 14-14 tie. The Eagles totally outplayed Edmond, 42-21. The last game of the season was against Shawnee which added a victory of 17-14 to the Eagles record.

Football Court Chosen

During the 74-75 school year, Miss Brenda Williams was chosen to reign as the DCHS football queen.

Brenda served as cheerleader for two years and held the title of head-cheerleader her Senior year. This was her third consecutive year to be honored as a member of the football court. Besides being active in many different clubs and organizations, Brenda was voted 'Most School Spirited' by the Senior Class.

At the September 27, Homecoming half-time activities, Brenda was escorted by Jim Coker and was crowned by Garry Smith.

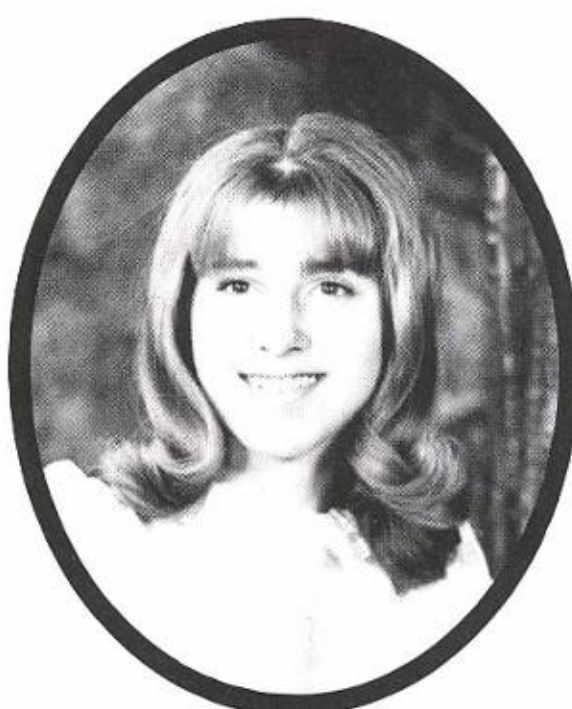

For the half-time presentation, Senior attendants wore white dresses, Juniors chose red, and Sophomores decided on blue.

Harriers Finish Progressive Season

In the football-crazed world of sports, cross-country becomes an anonymous meaning. Yet this mental sport combines the dedication, tension, and determination found in any athletic event. Del City's cross-country team fought this obscurity and proved its progressive ability. Powered by a nucleus of four returning lettermen, Del City entered the season with an easy victory over Southeast. An additional spark was provided when Del City swept the top three places in capturing the "B" Division crown for boys, the Oklahoma and Comet Invitational. However, fate dealt a crucial blow to the surging Eagles. Injuries and horrendous weather marred the harriers and affected performance in the crucial Mid-State and Regional meet, causing Del City to finish 6th and 11th respectively. Hopes of a better year were evident as Del City would return four varsity members, an omen to the few avid followers of sport's hidden spotlight.

Basketball

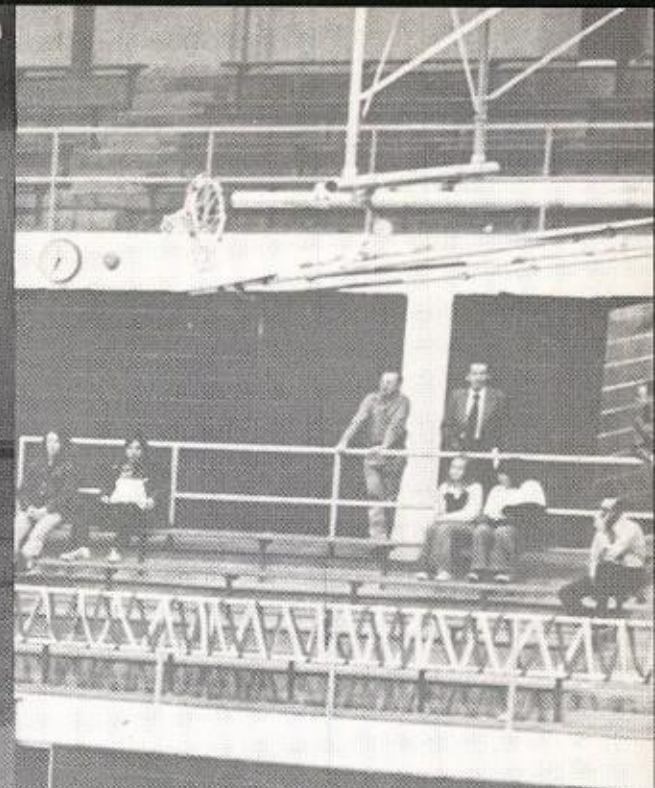

Basketball is a fast and exciting game. The game may be enjoyed by girls and boys. Basketball needs a high degree of muscular co-ordination and skill. Speed of foot, good vision and great agility are necessary. Individual play as well as teamwork makes basketball a success.

Cagers Struggle In Mid-State

The Eagles began their season as the favorites of coaches and fans alike. The first loss came at the hands of Edmond on their home court. Coach Burton had to mentally build his team up for the remaining game of December against Putnam City. The five senior starters just couldn't put it together against Putnam City on their home court. January brought new hopes: Del City finished as Consolation Champs in Putnam City West Tourney.

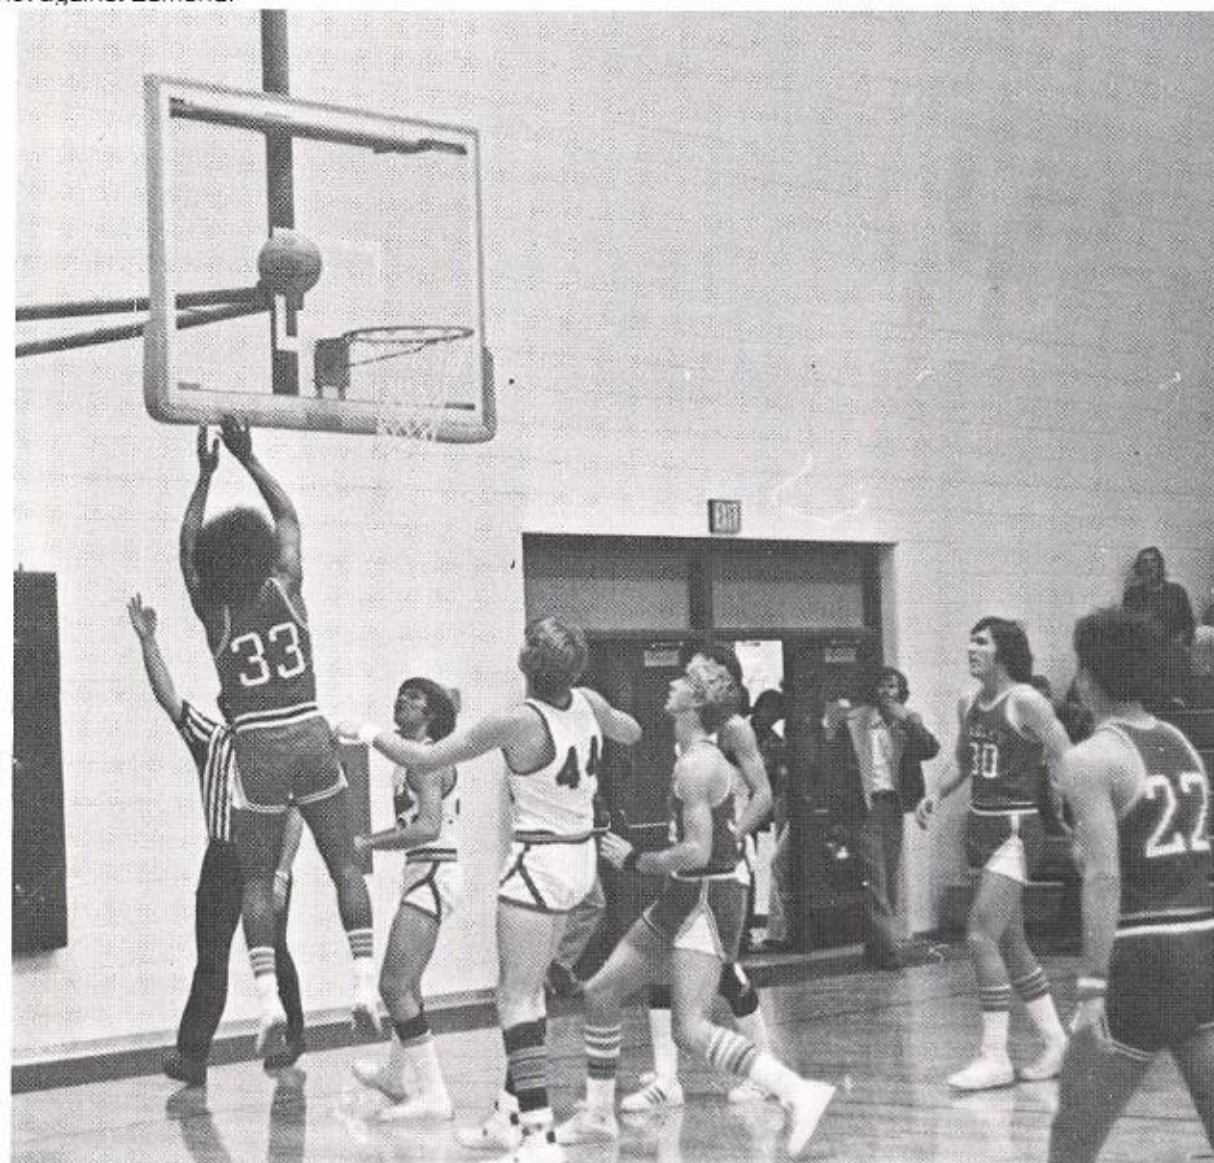

Coach Burton and his team had some let downs and real thrillers. The Eagles took first at the Midwest City Tourney by beating Midwest City, Grant, and upsetting highly ranked Norman. Eagle cagers moved up and down the ratings during their season.

With determination and an outstanding team and coach the Eagles headed toward the climax at the season's end.

Thomas Maxwell*

The 1974-75 girls' basketball season marked the second year of extended varsity play for the girls. Under the influence of first-year Coach Tom Maxwell, the girls stormed through the early season schedule, astounding all who watched their performances. The mid-season mark was the first Tournament of Champions, held at Eagle Fieldhouse. The tournament became an instant success, as some of the top teams in the state of Oklahoma competed for the prestigious title. Although the Eagles didn't place high, their hustle and determination raised the eyebrows of many spectators, gaining respect in the annals of girls' basketball's elite.

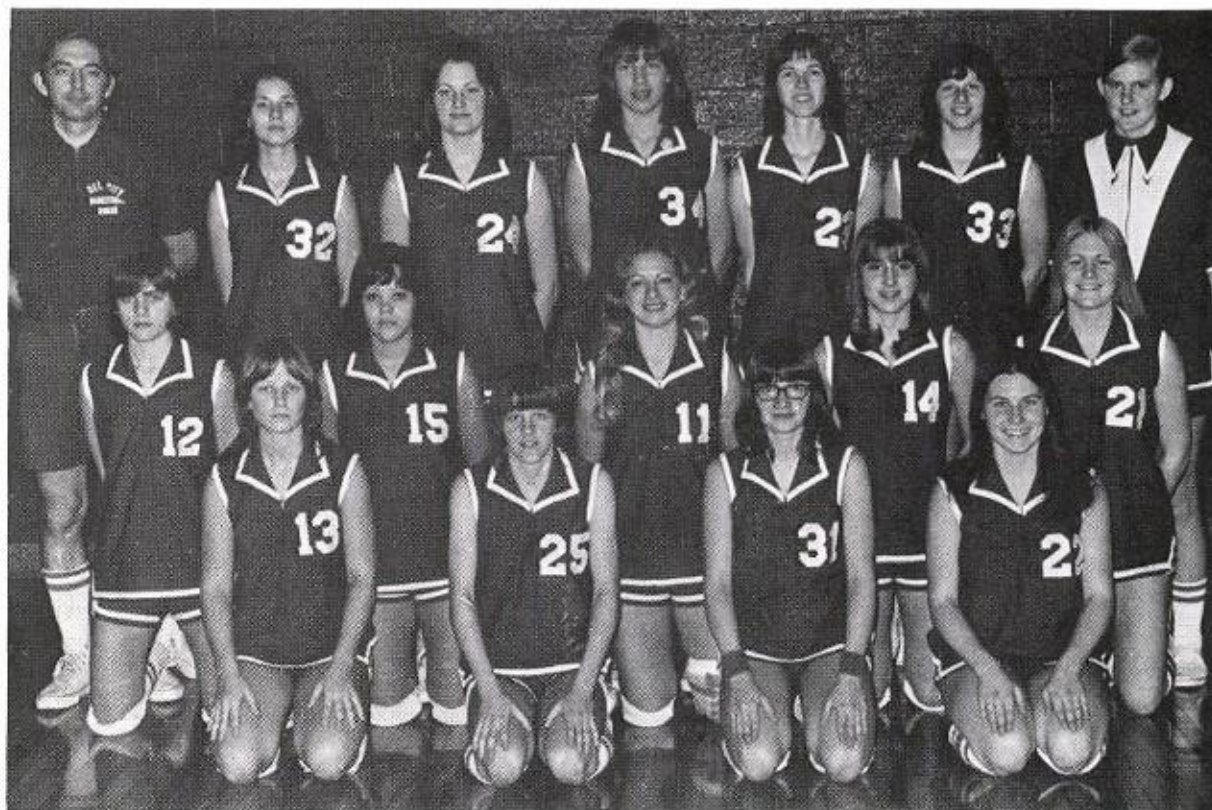

The season ended on a successful note, leaving high hopes for future success and recognition.

Three Returning

The 1974-75 wrestling team opened the season with high hopes of a promising year. Yet early season injuries plagued the team, drowning their morale in a flood of doubt and forcing new faces into the lineup.

However, outstanding performances lifted the shadow of defeat. Mike Henning romped through the season in an onslaught of pins and superior decisions. His performance in the Midwest City Invitational earned him a first place victory and Prep Wrestler of the Week. David James and Leroy Smith, Del's Dazzling Duo, suffered severe injuries yet continued domination in their respective weight classes.

The season revealed a promising line-up for next year as only one starter would leave the team. With the added experience and skills, the team showed potential power in the near future.

Dodi Crowned Wrestling Queen

The wrestling team chose Miss Dodi Howard to reign as their queen. Dodi and her attendants were presented to the student body in an assembly on January 29. She was escorted by Lee Roy Smith and crowned by Mr. Wrestling, Mike Henning, before the Grant match on January 31.

Dodi has been a member of the wrestling court for three years. She was an active member of the Pep Club and served as treasurer her junior year and president her senior year. She was the senior class secretary and belonged to Tri-Hi-Y.

Dodi's attendants were seniors, Candy Curry and Kathy Lakin; juniors, Ginger McElroy and Sheila Stedman; and sophomores, Pat Davies and Kelley Plaster.

Tracksters Strive For State

With overall team strength and many individual standouts Del City continued their track domination repeating as champions at the 1974 Mid-State championship, sparked by four individual champions and first place in the mile relay.

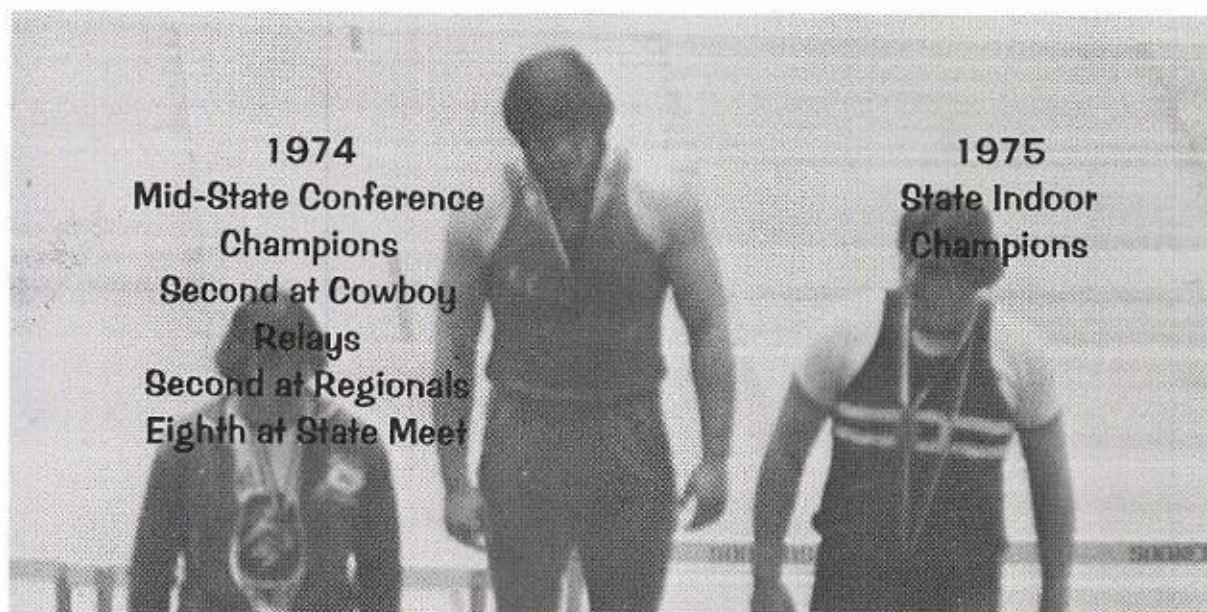

Bernie Hand won the state championship in the discus throw, adding to the many honors already bestowed on the team.

The Eagles captured the Coaches Indoor Game's title with three individual champions. Jim Kelley literally ran away from the rest of the pack, taking first place in the 60-yard High-Hurdles and 60-yard Low-Hurdles, and Randy Scott, sophomore standout, catapulted his way to victory in the pole vault event.

The season showed great promise as the Eagles strived for their third Mid-State title and a shot at the state outdoor championship.

Baseball Aims For

In spring of 1974 Del City earned its way to the State Tournament. The team compiled a season record of 29 wins and 12 losses and Mid-State Tri-Champs. Del City was involved in four tournaments during spring. The team finished first in both MWC Tourney and Regional Tourney. This led to the State Tourney. Del City was eliminated in the quarterfinals by Muskogee.

During the season three players earned honors. Graduates Marlin Dahlke and Oris Easton were named to the All-City Team. Dahlke was also named to the All-State Team. Also named to the All-City Team was second baseman, Larry Shuck.

Tennis, Golf Contribute

During the 1973-74 season the golf team finished their season by placing fourth in the Greater OKC Team Championship in the SE division. Del City participated in the Regional Tournament but did not qualify for the State Tournament.

David Taylor, 74 graduate, placed fifth in a group of sixty-five golfers in the greater OKC individual championship.

The season record consisted of four wins and eleven losses.

Doug Law and Steve Parker, graduates last spring, were ranked as fifth in the state as a double team.

Coach Sid Burton stated, "We'll be struggling hard this year."

Barbara DeShazo Is First Spring Sports Queen

The four spring sports teams; track, baseball, tennis, and golf, each selected a senior, junior, and sophomore attendant to represent them. The teams then selected a Spring Sports Queen from the four senior girls. The first Spring Sports Queen was Miss Barbara DeShazo. The spring sports teams selected a kissing captain who crowned Barbara in an assembly on April 15.

Barbara was an active member of Pep Club, and her senior year she served as Recording Secretary. She was also a member of FHA and Math Club. She belonged to Tri-Hi-Y, National Honor Society, Student Council, and the Yearbook Staff. She served as class treasurer her junior and senior years.

The track court was: Barbara DeShazo, princess; Patsy Alford, junior attendant; and Deby Strawn, sophomore attendant. The baseball court was: Kathy Lakin, princess; Lisa Courtney, junior attendant; and Teresa Maltos, sophomore attendant. The tennis court was: Janet Summers, princess; Kim Molina, junior attendant; and Vanda Brock, sophomore attendant. The golf court was: Robin Law, princess; Julie Scholz, junior attendant; and Debbie Thrash, sophomore attendant.

Board And Superintendent Make Policy

The Midwest City-Del City public school system was very fortunate to have had Mr. J. E. Sutton as Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Sutton served district 52 as Superintendent of Schools and executive officer of the Board of Education which governs our school system. He worked daily at fulfilling his commitment to solving problems of guidance, school policies, curriculum methods, and school finances.

He was assisted by Dr. Lewis Eubanks, Dr. Vernon McAllister, Mr. C. G. Weaver, and Mr. Ron Millicon.

Third Year As Principal For Grove

Mr. Grove was at Del City as principal for his third year. Working with the student body he helped make 1974-75 a year to remember. Mr. Grove was previously a vice-principal for three years and in 1964 coached the Del City state all-star basketball team.

As principal Mr. Grove coordinated the efforts of the entire teaching staff and served as a liaison with the central administration of the school system. He handled personnel problems, policy, public relation matters, and program planning.

Mr. Grove was always willing to consult with any student or faculty member regarding new ideas or problems.

Principal Assisted By Three

Helping Mr. Grove in the positions of vice-principal were Mr. Ted Perdue, Mr. Don Colston and Mr. Arnold Richardson. These men were always kept busy with their duties. As a combined force, the assistant principals were responsible for provision of textbooks and equipment, scheduling, assemblies, field trips, bus routes and enforcing discipline. They were also in charge of attendance, lockers, substitute teachers, management of the offices, and supervision of all athletic events and extracurricular functions held at Del City High School.

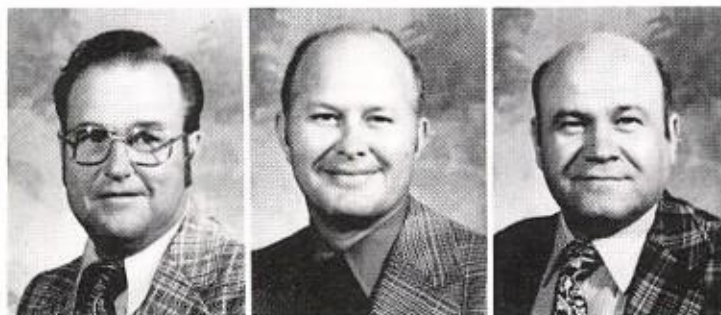

Students' association with the assistant principals came mainly when they had to obtain admits to class. Admits were issued to the seniors by Mr. Perdue, to the juniors by Mr. Colston, and to the sophomores by Mr. Richardson.

To start off the year the four counselors were busy with schedule changes and the new computerized enrollment. Instead of counselors floating with a class, they were assigned to different sections of the alphabet.

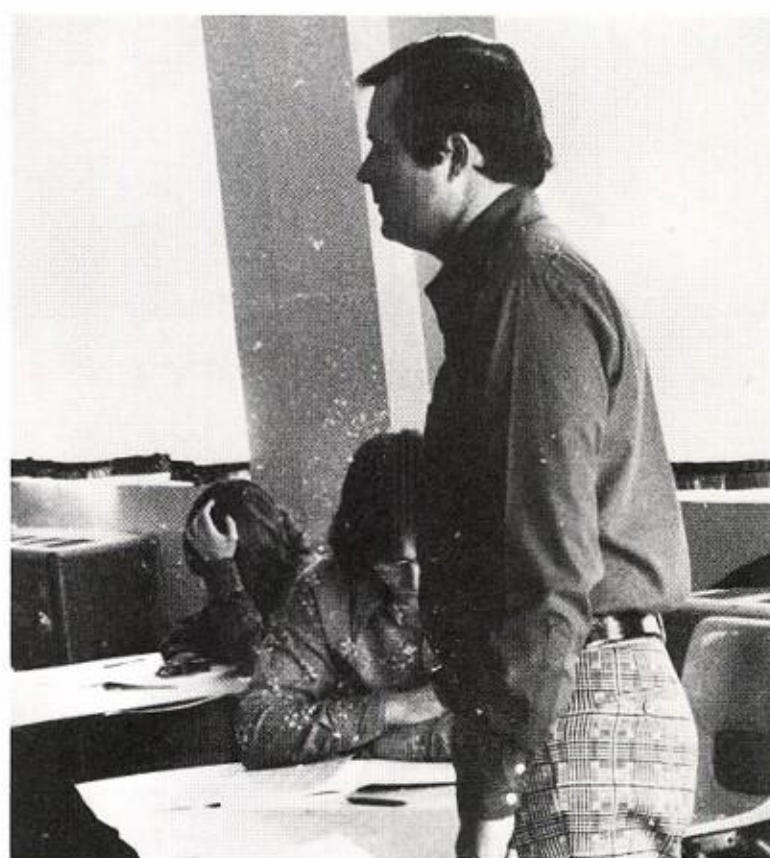

Counselors were always willing to offer their guidance in career choice, college entrance and testing and they were also available to discuss personal problems with students.

The new counselor was Mr. David Richey, formerly a teacher at DCHS.

English was a required subject for all students. Along with grammar all classes had to study some kind of literature. The three foreign languages offered were French, Spanish and German. These courses stressed not only mastery of language, but also familiarity with the customs and cultures of other peoples. Enrollment in foreign language electives increased in 1974-75.

New English teachers were Miss Cathy Burnett and Mrs. Shirley Kline. Department head was Mrs. Maxyne Kelley.

Social Studies Teachers Use Films

The social studies curriculum grew in the past year with the addition of such classes as Rise of the City, Anthropology, and Law and Justice. American History was a required course for all Juniors; nevertheless, teachers helped to make it more interesting by the use of films.

Other courses offered again this year were world history, psychology, and ancient history.

Math And Physical Skills

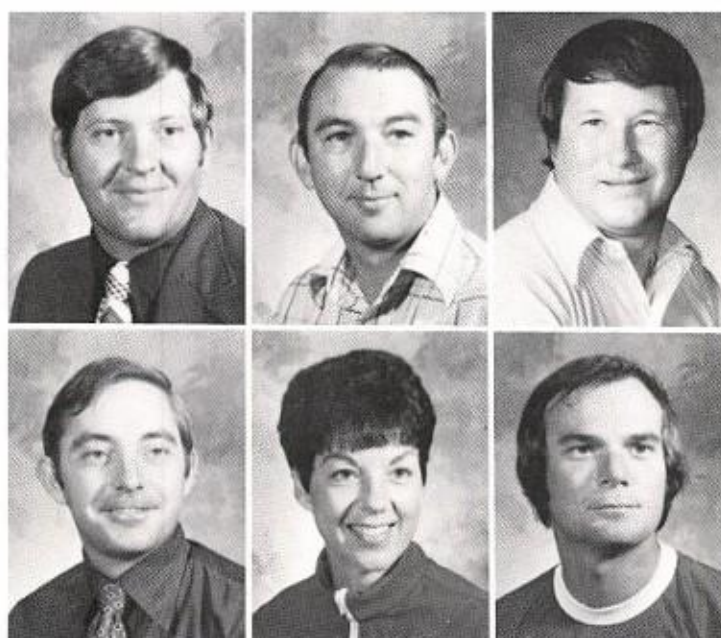

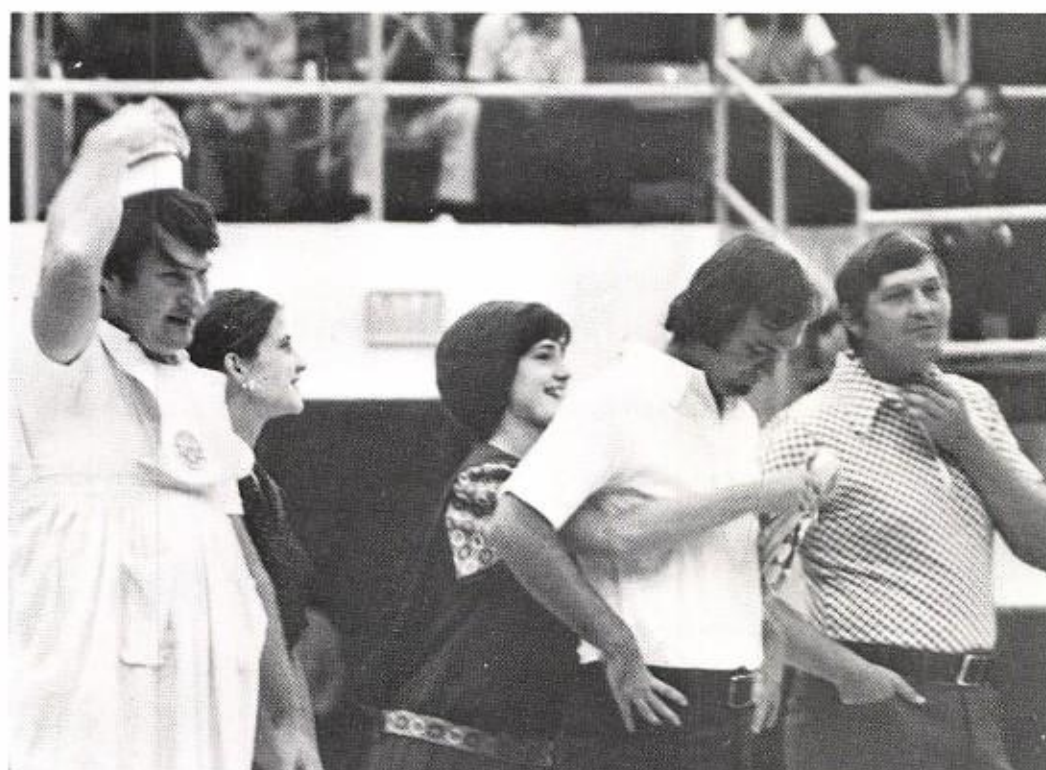

Among the math courses taught at Del City High School were high school math, geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and math analysis.

Science classes included such classes as biology, chemistry, physics, and astronomy.

In physical education classes students participated in such sports as basketball, volleyball, and tennis.

Drivers education taught students the correct way to drive. This class helped students to be better and safer drivers.

Secretaries Help School Run Smoothly

In the main office, secretaries Mrs. Dolores White, Mrs. Theresa Modena and Mrs. Sheila Preble, were kept busy all day. Not only were they responsible for finances but they also took phone calls and issued school supplies to teachers.

In the attendance offices secretaries Mrs. Barbara Shuck, Mrs. Shirley Sharp and Mrs. Judy Tulloh checked students in and out of school.

Two new faces were seen in both counseling offices. They were Mrs. Pat Shield and Mrs. Mary Northrip who worked amid schedule changes, conferences, and credit checks.

Staff Provides Service

The cooks begin early each morning getting ready for two lunch lines. Competition from local drive-ins and the snack bar cut down the number of students who ate in the cafeteria, but many students did not leave the school grounds and instead filled the crowded tables of the cafeteria.

The custodians worked hard all year to keep the freshly painted school looking good as new. Daily duties such as sweeping floors and emptying trash cans seemed to be minor jobs, but proved to be great factors in the maintenance of the building.

Growing a Little Older

Growing a little older is suddenly Standing a little still;
Then forward again, with something learned
Of skies,
Where motion dies.

Growing a little older is holding
One day a question back;
Then letting it go, with something seen
To crawl
Twixt nothing at all.

Growing a little older is hiding
Shivers of sudden fear;
Then letting them work, with something guessed
Of the deep spear
Of joy,
That too will destroy.

Juniors Demonstrate

The Zest of Life

Let me but live year to year,
 With forward face and unreluctant soul.
 Not hastening to, nor turning from the goal;
 Not mourning for the things that disappear
 In the dim past, nor holding back in fear

From what the future veils; but with a whole

And happy heart, that pays its toll
 To youth and age, and travels on with cheer.

So let the way wind up the hill or down,

Though rough or smooth, the journey will be joy,

Still seeking what I sought when but a boy,
 New friendship, high adventure, and a crown,

I shall grow old, but never lose life's zest,

Because the road's last turn will be the best.

— Henry Van Dyke

Seniors Set Examples

My mind lets go a thousand things, like dates of war and deaths of kings.

And yet recalls the very days when you and I started experiencing an all new surrounding. We had new fears, hopes, and dreams.

I can remember all the silly things we've done; like the time when we . . .
and then the time when we . . . and I could go on and on.

Memories can be good and of course they can be bad, but I hope that yours and mine will be the best, especially those of D.C.H.S.

Enjoy Activities

Throughout the year Spanish and French Clubs enjoyed various activities.

At two football games, the French Club was busy selling balloons to arouse school spirit. From the funds acquired from their sales, they were able to prepare French cuisine in Del City's home ec. rooms. Also in their spare time they delved into the simpler foods, such as pizza.

Candy sales proved to be a successful fund raiser for the Spanish Club. After a hectic night of ice skating, the members indulged themselves at a nearby pizza parlor.

German Club Has Picnic

Starting the year off with a Halloween picnic German Club increased its membership to thirty members. To join, members had to pay a fee of $1.50. This money was donated to the "Halfway House," a treatment center for drug addicts. German Club also sponsored a fund raising project in order to donate money to Del Aires. Club members participated in the annual "Foreign Language Week." A favorite activity was the Christmas banquet at the Volkstube Restaurant.

Eagle Beacon Staff Plans Special Issues

Working in cooperation with the Del City News many students on the staff gained experience in journalism. Students researched stories, designed layouts, and wrote headlines for the Del City Communicator, their page in the Del City News. Rather than publish a school paper at weekly intervals, the staff chose to publish the Eagle Beacon issues centering around important school events. The newspaper staff attended fall and spring Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association Conferences and Paul Wade was chosen as President of the organization.

As Year Progresses

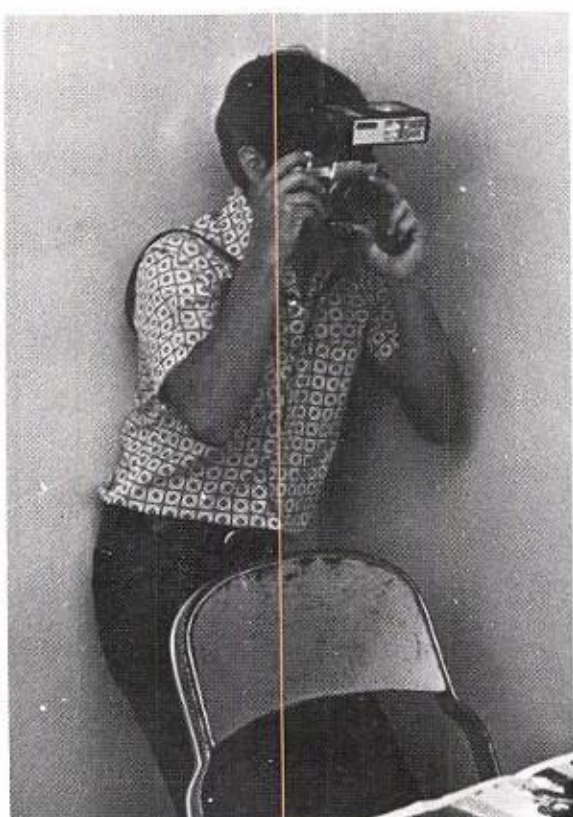

Larger enrollment meant added responsibility and pressure for the yearbook staff. An additional burden was the inexperienced working corps, consisting of only one person with any yearbook experience.

Yet, in the famed spirit and determination known at Del City, the Aquila workers toiled and feverishly attacked the inevitable task. Blocking mental tension, and continually racing time, the staff faced deadlines.

The yearbook staff attended workshops at OU and CSU, where they gained experience in designing layouts, writing headlines and copy, and cropping pictures.

Many of Math Club's thirty members were also members of a larger group called Mu Alpha Theta, a national honorary math society. One of many field trips the Math Club took was to "Science Day" at OU where career opportunities in science were presented. Math Club continued its very successful tutoring service for math students. But the highlight of the year was the Mu Alpha Theta Awards Banquet at which Math Club members who had high math grades were awarded membership certificates. The club also hosted a guest speaker, Dr. Don Boyle. Sponsor was Mr. Leslie Newsom.

Youth For Christ Increases Membership

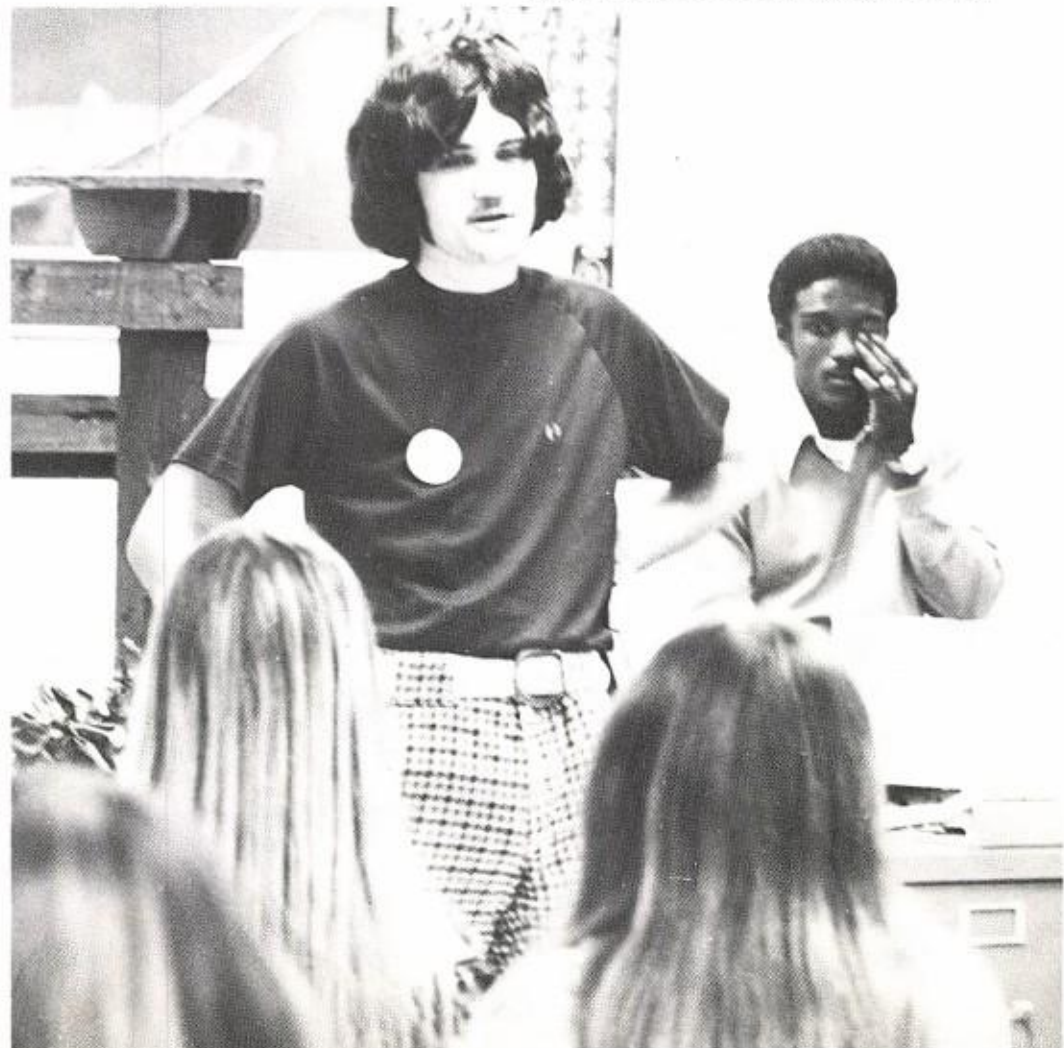

Under the leadership of President, Matt Alsup, Youth for Christ increased its membership and had a very successful year. Throughout the year Y.F.C. raised money for Del Aires calling it their "gift of love." In November, Dawson McAllister, a very well known speaker acclaimed for his methods of reaching teenagers, spoke to D.C. students. Y.F.C. was not a big fund raising club nor did they go on a lot of trips, but the main purposes of Y.F.C. were fellowship and helping one another. Sponsor for the group was Mrs. Betty Goslin.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Bonnie Nix and Mrs. Betty Honey, the Library Club helped to serve the growing needs of a growing student population. Without their determination and efforts of library workers, the research facilities of Del City would have been a disarrayed shamble.

There was a lighter side to the Library Club, as their social events proved. However, their basic purpose was to serve the needs of the multi-faceted student body.

Thespians Await Changes In Auditorium

The Thespians is an International drama group. Del City's chapter met once a week. To be a Thespian a student had to have a total of ten points, earned by doing various things during a school production. In November, Thespians attended State Convention where they performed with students from other schools. Thespians sponsored the Annual "Ugly Contest" to raise money. Sponsor for the group was Mrs. Jeannie Long. The group anxiously awaited the completion of the remodeled auditorium.

Two New Clubs Form

As the various activities and social events of organizations became prominently known, two younger organizations jumped from near oblivion to small recognition.

Hi-Notes was formed to serve the needs of the Oklahoma City Symphony. By ushering and performing various tasks, this city-wide organization discovered the fascinating beauty of music.

Table Tennis club was built on a dream influenced greatly by the recent popularity of the sport. The determined bunch managed to find an avid sponsor and set up a smoothly functioning organization, destined to grow as rapidly as its popularity.

FCA Admits Girl Athletes

Under the leadership of Mr. Gary Rose, the organization's objective was to unite fellow athletes in their beliefs. Basically a self-serving group, the FCA indulged in social events of merriment and faith. Club activities were spearheaded by the efforts of president Garry Smith, vice-president Bill Braddock, and secretary Bob Dimski.

The FCA allowed students to look at their deep personal feelings, which are sometimes hidden in the field of athletic combat.

Has Diverse Projects

Carrying out school legislation and trying to keep the student body pleased was the job of Student Council. Working in affiliation with the National Association of Student Councils many of the officers and members spent their summer and weekends at various workshops.

The Student Council gave the students a chance to show their talents by sponsoring the talent show.

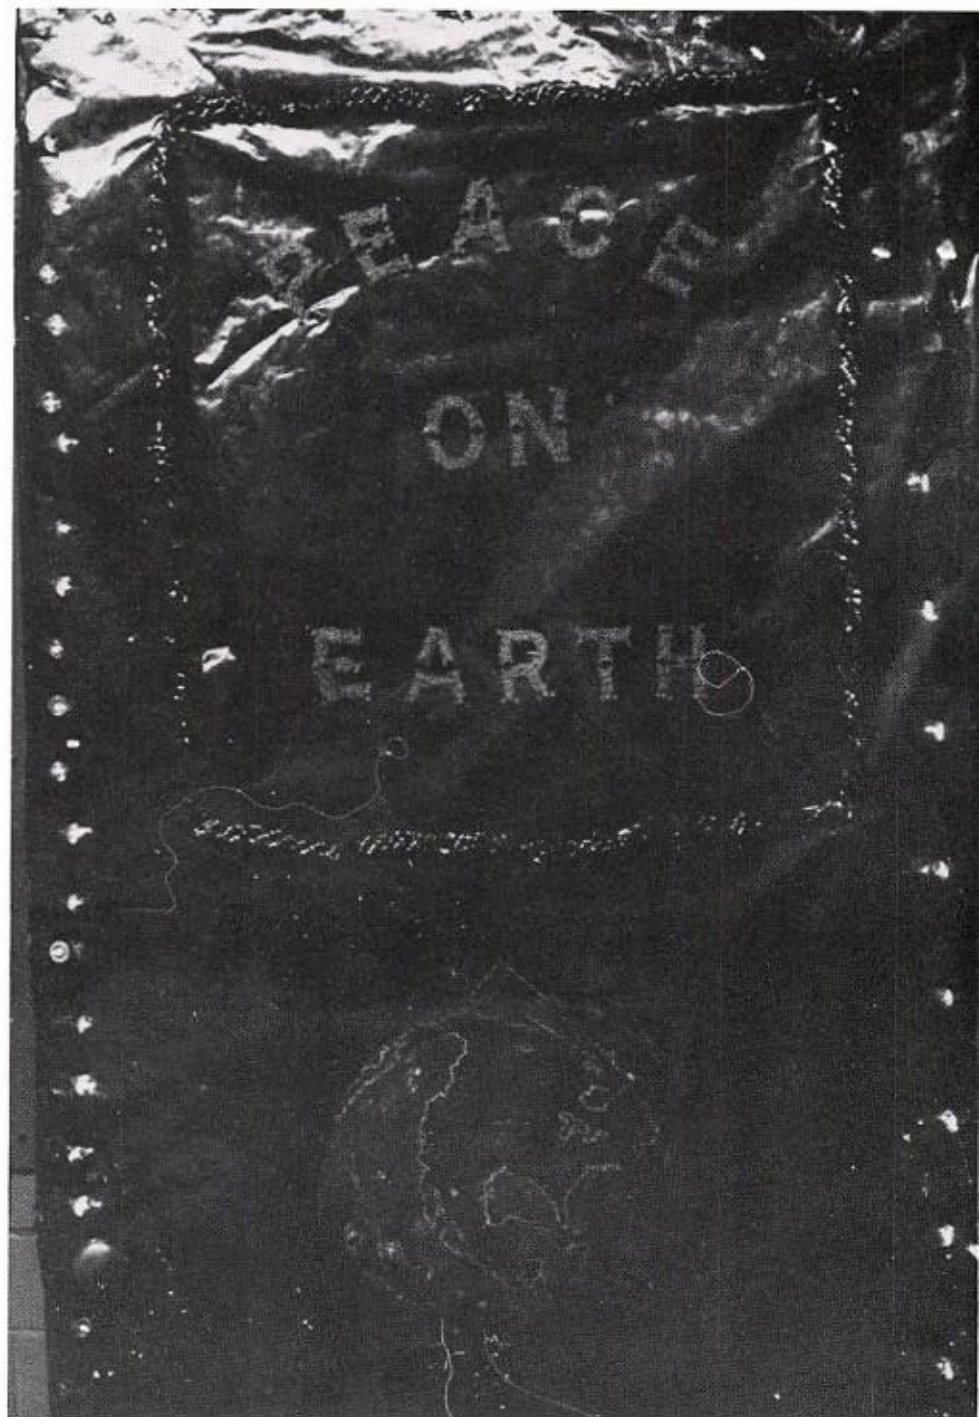

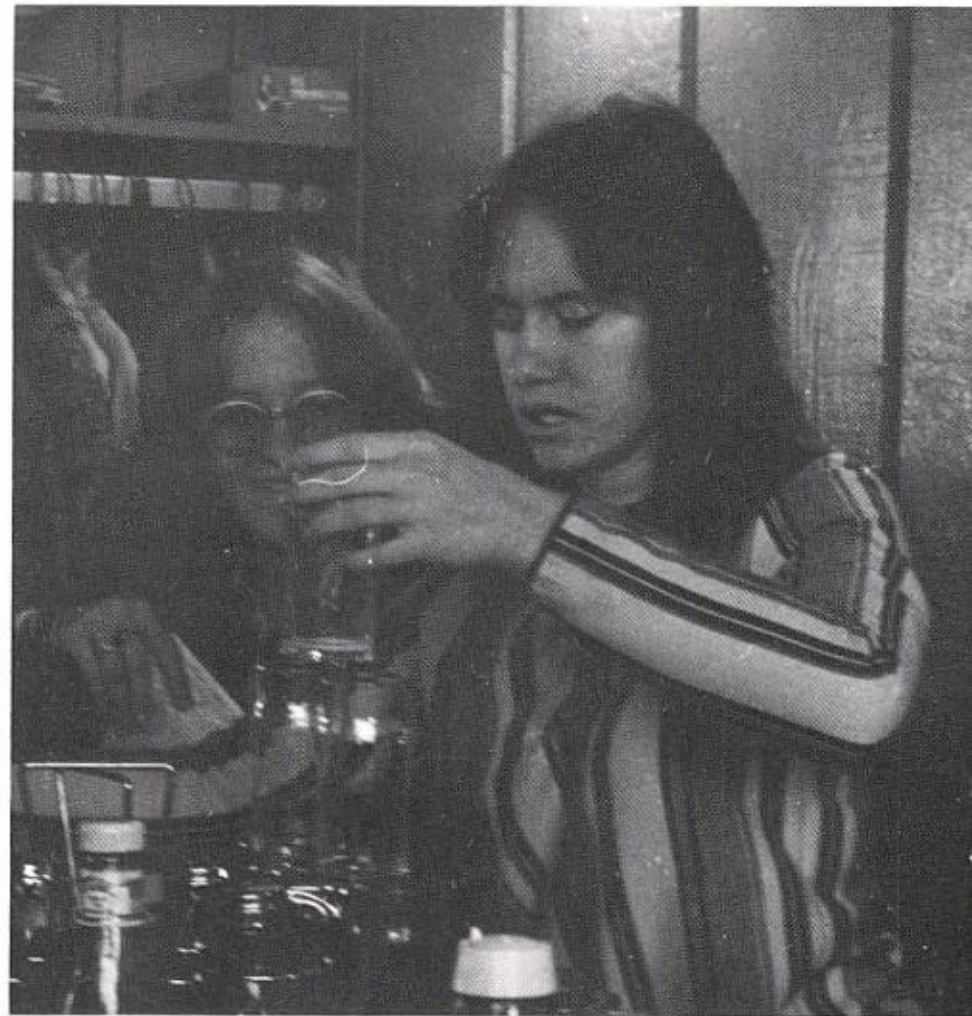

Sponsoring all but one of the Homecoming week activities was the responsibility of Student Council. Other projects were the Walkathon in November, the homeroom door decorations for Christmas, and the "Grow-a-Beard Contest" in January. The long time devoted sponsor was Mrs. Gladys Flood.

Students Get Credit For On-The-Job Training

Members of DECA earned high school credits while working. DECA allowed students to attend four hours of school and receive credit equal to six hours for on the job training. Speech Students Are Active In NFL

The National Forensic League was a nationally recognized speech and debate club. Students were responsible for earning twenty-five points to be eligible for membership. Operating a printing press was the source of funds for contest entry fees. The members also sold tickets and ushered at all drama productions. Members attended a Christmas party in December at the house of the group sponsor, Mrs. Phyllis Griffin.

Sausage Sales Help Fund FBLA Projects

Future Business Leaders of America was a club consisting mainly of Cooperative Office Education students.

To get the year off to a start, F.B.L.A. had a fund raising project. Sausage was their main fund raiser. With the money from sausage sales, they were able to sponsor an Employer-Employee Breakfast.

Also during the year they visited the Board of Education Administration Building and helped to host Career Week.

F.B.L.A. was headed by Mrs. Audrey Moon and Mrs. Julia McPheeters. Among its fifty members were their officers: Karen Booze, President; Diane Doncevic, Vice-President; Cindy Chase, Secretary; Vickey Carroll, Treasurer.

History Club Gets Voting Machines

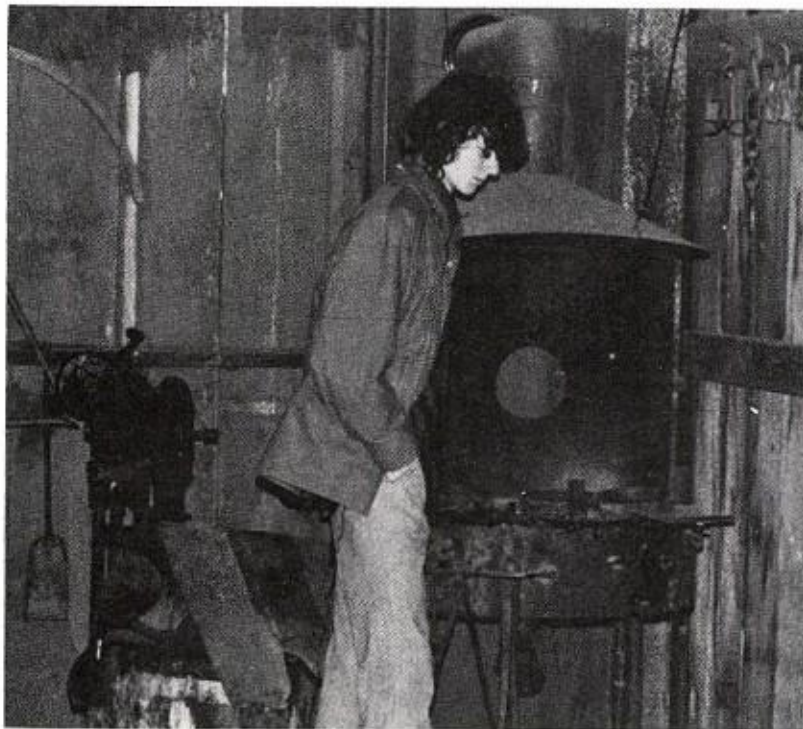

With the help of club sponsor, Mr. Dick Logan, the History Club was able to obtain voting machines. The machines will be put to good use during the student council elections.

History Club members in January attended a regular session of the City Council and went on a field trip to the "Cowboy Hall of Fame." Over spring break the History Club visited Washington, D.C., where such sites as the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial were visited.

Officers for History Club were: Larry Hopper, President; Jeff Johnson, Vice-President; Dan Brodt, Treasurer; Lynda Morgan, Reporter.

Than Cook And Sew

Future Homemakers of America was an extremely active group. In October F.H.A. attended a Sub-District rally at which Gary England was guest speaker.

F.H.A. also had a booth during careers week at the new Del State Bank. They explained the functions of Home Ec. to the community.

In November came the annual "Squat and Gobble" the Thanksgiving dinner which mothers were invited to attend.

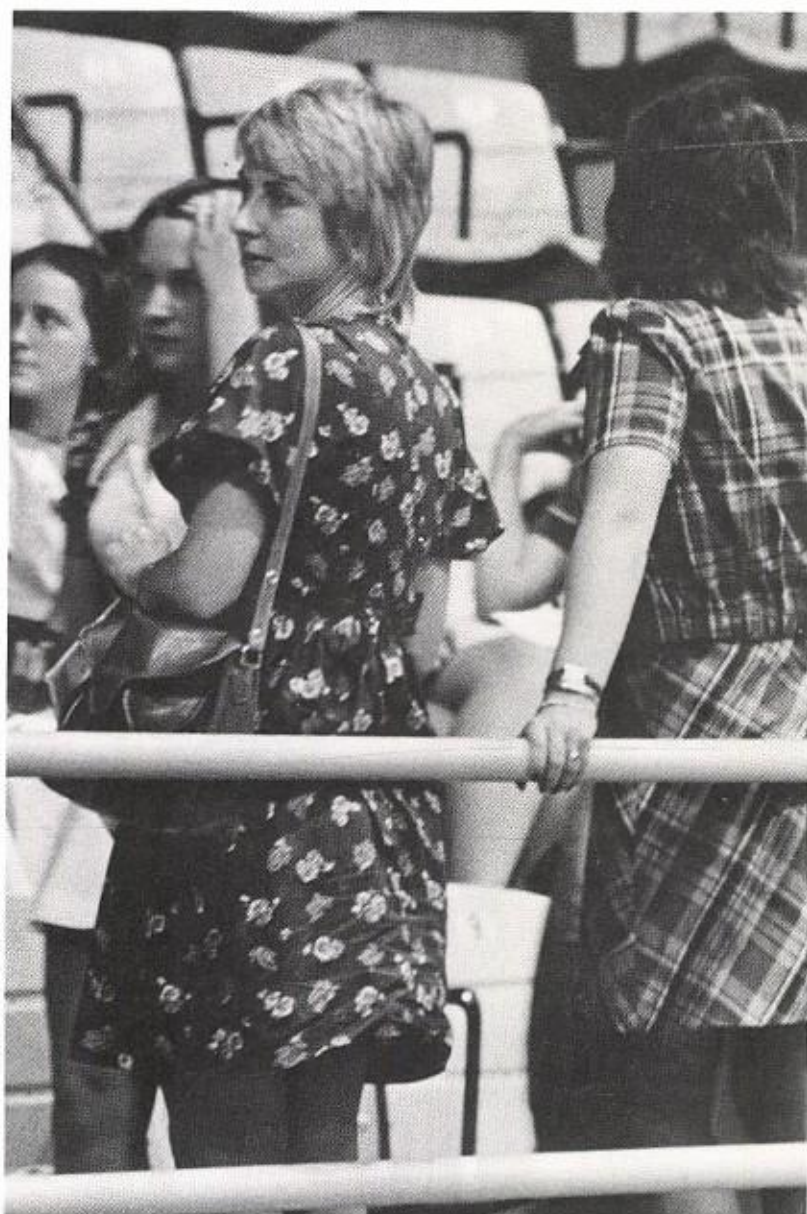

F.H.A. also served at the faculty Christmas luncheon and found time for a slumber party.

They spread their good will throughout the community by visiting and giving parties for various children's homes.

Connie Roberts, a 3 year F.H.A. member was selected Outstanding F.H.A. Member in January. Last year she served as secretary and this year was treasurer. Sponsors were the three home economics teachers.

With massive fund raising events going on and a week in their honor, it became very obvious that the Del Aires were striving to be on their way to Vienna, Austria for the International Music Festival.

The Del Aires were selected with twelve other choirs to represent the United States; they were first invited to audition along with a hundred other choirs and then selected from them. Del Aires anticipated visiting not only Vienna but also Rome and Venice, Italy. The total cost of the trip was estimated to be fifty-five thousand dollars.

Even with all this confusion the Del Aires found time to be the only choir to sing at Governor David Boren's inauguration and they sang for various community and state organizations.

At the Christmas concert in December the Del Aires chose Robin Ray as Miss Del Aire and Danny Henderson as Mr. Del Aire.

Pep Club Generates Enthusiasm

The Pep Club worked throughout the year to maintain spirit among the athletes as well as the school. They held fund raising projects such as pop bottle drives, a car wash, and a Lung Drive for the Oklahoma Lung Research Program. They also sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance at the Community Center.

Pep Club members made signs for the halls and the locker rooms. They spent their own money to make favors and to decorate the players' houses. Members received points for attending games and meetings and any outside work. A set amount of points was required to attend the Christmas Banquet held in the cafeteria and the spring trip. The junior and sophomore members honored the senior girls at the Senior Banquet.

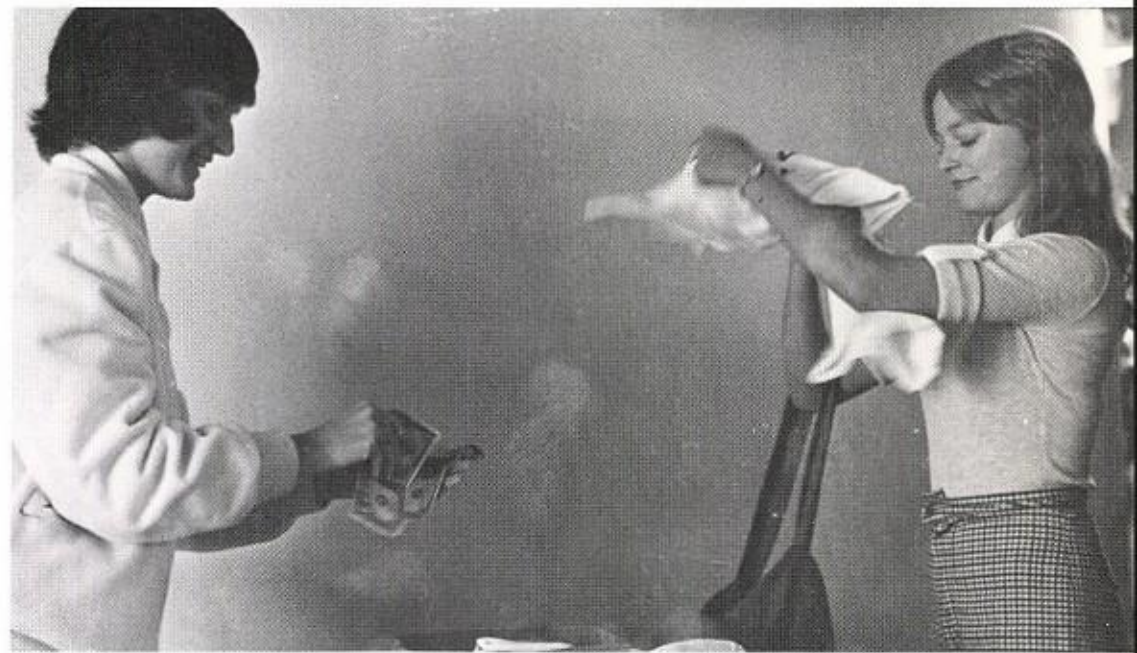

Even though Pep Club was the largest club in the school, this did not stop the unity and friendship that was shown within. At the end of the year, all the work and effort seemed worthwhile as the members looked back over the successful year.

Plan Ways To Boost Spirit

Pep Club officers and cheerleaders began working before the school year started. They had many responsibilities and duties which they performed well.

The officers consisted of ten girls who had the frustrating job of organizing Pep Club. They started by recruiting new members and planning activities which would interest everyone. Throughout the year they held sign-making parties, presided over meetings, and organized assemblies, coronations, and fund raising projects.

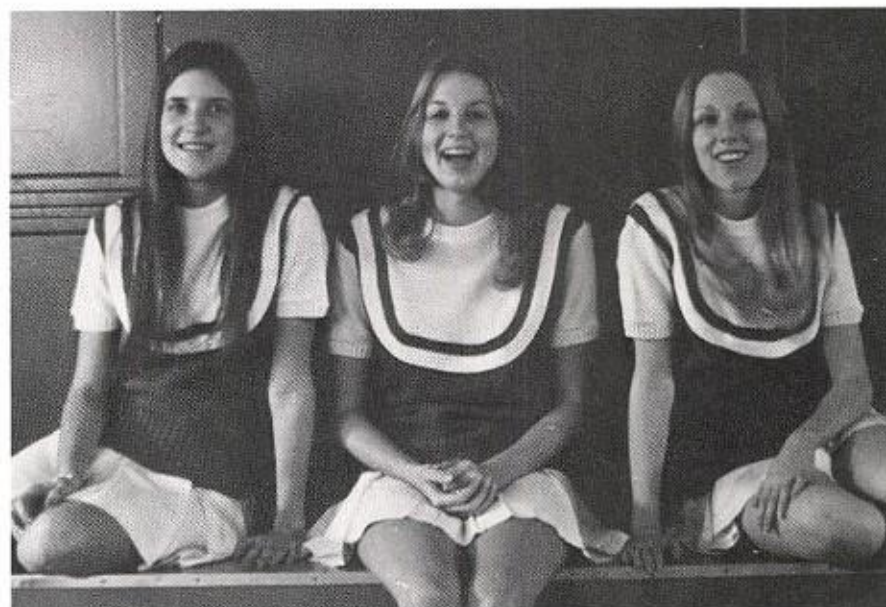

A talented group of girls made up the cheerleaders. They won many honors at clinic including the Dr. Pepper-Braniff Award. During the year, they raised the spirit in the school while supporting the various teams.

Pep Club officers Patti Wisdom, Barbara DeShazo and Kathy Lakin turn in donations for the lung drive.

Susie Peterman, Chaplain and LaQuita Martin, Parliamentarian.

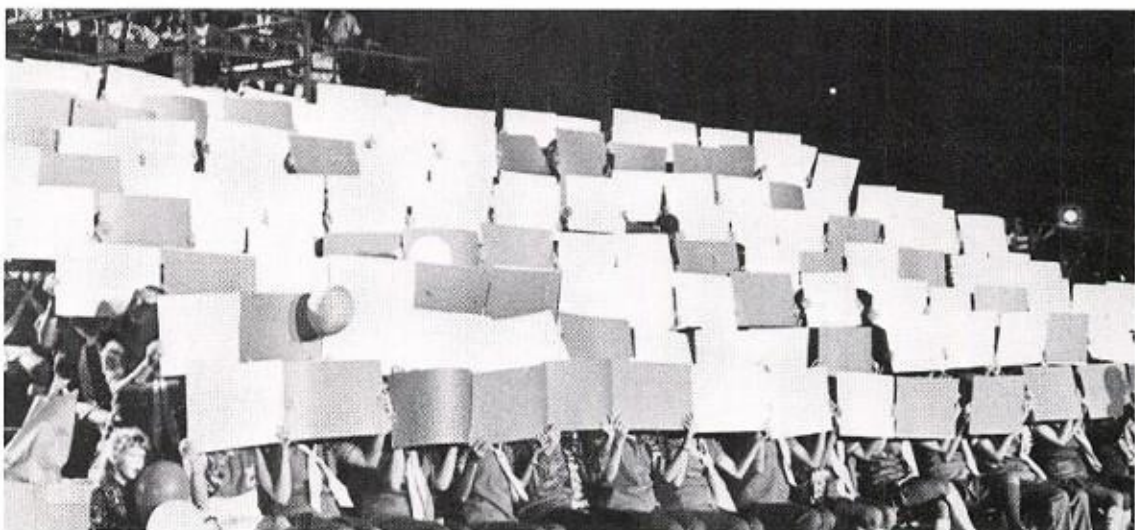

Patti Wisdom, Program Chairman Kathy Shaw, Reporter; Tammy Braden, Treasurer.

DCHS Band Is Source Of School Pride

Mr. Albert Buswell and Mr. Bob Goodner were responsible for maintaining a band of one hundred and twenty members. Due to an ever-increasing number of students in band, it was necessary for Mr. Goodner to become Del City's first Assistant Band Director.

The band represented the school at all the major contests with superior ratings. Everyone worked equally hard fund raising for the trip to Corpus Christi, for which the cost was seven thousand dollars. Throughout the year the band represented the school with the utmost quality.

Tri-Hi-Y And Key Club Are Service Clubs

Members of Key Club and Tri-Hi-Y joined to serve the community.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club the Key Club had various responsibilities; among them were keeping the marquee in front of the school up-to-date and choosing "Eagle of the Week." Members also enjoyed gatherings at restaurants in the area to eat and to exchange ideas.

Tri-Hi-Y was affiliated with the Tinker Branch YMCA and used their facilities for meetings and recreation. Throughout the year members met to discuss various projects to fulfill their pledge to community service. Bake sales provided needed funds for the group.

The 1974-75 school year was a collection of opinions and events which will remain in a part of each individual mind forever. The Aquila staff confronted people with current topics of concern only to find vast differences of opinions. The varying responses again proved that the individuality of many persons can successfully mingle within the school environment.

on Nixon's pardon:

"It is ridiculous. He should be held accountable for his deeds, just as any other person" — Mr. Dave Robertson

"I'm glad Nixon was granted a pardon. I think his family has suffered enough." — Jana James

"It only proved that our system of justice is not equal. Those who have money or power can twist the system to their advantage." — Rick Murrell

"I think the government ought to leave him alone and worry about more important problems." — David Fair

Del City Marching Band.

Mrs. Barbara Fitzgerald and Mrs. Betty Honey.

Jana James:

on the quality of our education:

"We have a good faculty but are still lacking in curriculum." — Danny Henderson

"Incomplete." — Steve Fly

"Compared to other schools our educational status is pretty good." — Matt Immel

"Vo Tech has given me the opportunity to work and learn what I want to know." — Anthony Spencer

"We should be able to express ourselves more and do more things on our own." — Debbie Boyles on the Equal Rights Amendment:

"I think it's really terrible it didn't pass because we should be beyond the point where we have to decide if women are equal to men." — Mrs. Thelma Rex

"I'm glad it didn't pass because I don't think women should be lowered to the level of men." — Mr. Larry Fisher

"I'm glad it didn't pass because those women's libbers were not speaking for all women and it wouldn't be fair." — Vicki Duke

"By not passing the ERA, the Oklahoma Legislature has once again proved it will have to be dragged into the 20th Century by the more progressive states of our nation." — Mrs. Betty Honey

It ended as it began, everyone wrapped up in his own ideas, ambitions and activities. But as the year progressed the individual in each of us became a part of the whole of DCHS in some way or another.

on memories of the year:

"Friday nights." — Steve Williams

"The Midwest City game." — Denney Crabaugh

"Going to Mrs. Colston's office." — Cris Fancher

"The Talent Show because we worked so hard to put it together." — Kathy Broderick

"The Junior Class movie, 'Red Sky at Morning'." — Darlene Stuart

"That the Sophomores were the only class to have a float in the Homecoming Parade." — Mr. Dick Logan

"When Philip Whitlow picked up the Putnam City fumble and ran it back 99 yards for a TD." — Billy Moore

"The fun my 1st hour had listening to Tammy Shimp and Teresa Maltos reading a scene from 'Julius Caesar'." — Mrs. Barbara Fitzgerald

"The Homecoming week activities." — Marc Harvey

on school apathy:

"I think our school is of a size that people mistake apathy for different interests." — Mr. Sid Burton

"I think apathetic people are just careless about their futures." — Steve Yohn

"People who don't care about anything aren't here half the time anyway, so it doesn't bother me." — Larry Shuck
